Temporary Halt in Korean Conference Asked by Dean

Red Attempt To Persuade POWs Stalls

Only 136 Questioned As Delaying Tactics Drag Out Interviews

By JOHN RANDOLPH

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Communist efforts to coax home anti-Red Chinese and Korean war prisoners was almost halted today as stalling Red persuaders dragged out interviews and walked out during even minor disputes.

Only 136 prisoners were interviewed all day. And only two of the 136 elected to return to communism.

Smallest Yet To Go

This was the smallest number of POWs to appear before Red explainers in any one day and was only a fraction of the 492 prisoners the Communists asked to see.

There was growing speculation here that the Reds might be preparing to call off explanations which have won back only a handful of balky prisoners.

It was the second straight day of slowdown tactics by Communist teams trying to change the minds of prisoners who have rejected repatriation.

And even though interviews averaged about 1 hour and 20 minutes each the Reds chalked up their poorest score in seven days of explanations. Less than 1.5 per cent of the prisoners said they would go back to their Red-ruled homelands.

Only 61 of 2,020 prisoners interviewed to date have agreed to go back.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission broke up some long interviews with prisoners who obviously where anti-Red.

"This is absurd," he said. 'It's got to stop."

Walk Out in Protest

Several Swiss members of repatriation commission groups supervising the explanations walked out as they did Wednesday in protest against Communist tactics.

"I will not be ruled by such people," said one exasperated young Swiss officer.

The Chinese POWs from Compound C22 marched peacefully to the interview tents. Once there, some cursed and threatened Communist explainers. Others sat quietly looking bored.

The Indian Command said Chinese prisoners remaining in Compound C22 probably would be called before Red explainers Friday. However, a U. N. spokesman said the Reds would switch back to North Koreans after talking for two days with Chinese POWs.

Sticking to Policy

Election Outcome Fails To Shake Ike

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, conceding he is not completely happy over portents of Democratic resurgence at the polls vows he is sticking to the political and legislative course he has charted.

The job of his administration, he told his news conference yesterday, is to provide a dynamic and forward-looking program for the country. He said the administration will continue toward that goal, believing that in the long run it will win.

No Comment on Setback

Eisenhower declined to appraise the results of Tuesday's elections, which included surprise Democratic victories in New Jersey, in terms of reaction to his administration's policies or actions.

He told reporters he just didn't know, and they would have to do their own analyzing.

The President volunteered, to open the news conference, that he was not completely pleased and happy with some of Tuesday's state and local election results. But he added, giving reporters permission to quote him directly in this instance:

"I have lost skirmishes before."

Taking up the military analogy, a reporter asked whether he intended to win the war—presumably the 1954 congressional elections.

He never went in a war to lose one the President replied.

Democrats Score Gains

Questioning came back time and again to politics, specifically to the elections of Tuesday. In them, the Democrats swept to victory in the New York City mayoral race, elected a governor and a congressman in recently Republican New Jersey, held the Virginia governorship, and made gains in local elections in such states as Connecticut.

This showing in heavily populated Eastern areas came at a time when most politicians were saying there were definite signs of opposition to the administration in Midwestern and Southern farm areas.

These factors seemed to many political observers to add up to a gloomy picture for the Republicans, facing a fight to retain or widen their narrow margins in the Senate and House next year.

Whether Tuesday's results really foreshadowed a national trend toward the Democrats was a matter of debate.

Many Republicans, while conceding unhappiness, pointed to local issues. Democrats were quick to note Eisenhower had given a blanket endorsement to all Republicans running everywhere.

Dodges Question

The President, asked whether he would support next year Republicans who do not support him and his program, said he didn't want to try to answer that one, that he didn't think he could give a good answer.

He was asked about a congressman's statement that the people a year ago had voted for a change and hadn't gotten it.

His opinion, the President replied, is that the kind of change the people wanted is an orderly and progressive one, not just any kind, and that they were going to get it and are getting it.

Did he plan, in view of Tuesday's results, to reappraise his legislative program?

Can't Be Ignored

No, Eisenhower said, his problem is to devise a program that meets the composite convictions of those associated with him and that is for the general welfare of the United States. Some vicissitudes of politics here and there, he added, would have no effect on it whatever.

McCarthy Rips Balky Witness In Radar Probe

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) says Abraham Brothman, who served a prison term in connection with the Rosenberg spy case, has refused to tell Senate probers whether he is a Communist.

Brothman served two years in prison after being convicted for N. Y. appeared twice yesterday at closed hearings of McCarthy's Senate permanent investigations subcommittee.

McCarthy said the plant works on defense contracts involving radar, and that a witness said Brothman had "free run of the plant."

The president of Techra Flex, Norman Gaboriault, also a subcommittee witness yesterday, told newsmen his firm is not engaged in radar or "classified" work.

McCarthy termed Brothman "an uncooperative witness who refused to answer almost everything."

Brothman served todayears in prison after being convicted for trying to induce atom spy Harry Gold to lie to a 1947 federal grand jury probing espionage. Gold is serving a 30-year prison term as a co-conspirator of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, executed last summer for handing over atomic secrets to Russia.

from federal prison.

Brothman has worked at the Techra Flex plant since his release from federal prison.

McCarthy said Gaboriault told of having sent a chauffeured car to the Atlanta penitentiary to pick up Brothman when he left the prison and of meeting Brothman during the trial. Gaboriault also was quoted by McCarthy as saying he did not think Brothman was guilty of the charge on which he was convicted.

Brothman, McCarthy said, refused to say whether or not he knew Gaboriault.

Marshall's Condition Continues To Be Good

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, stricken with an inflamed lung after influenza, continues in good condition at Walter Reed Army Medical Center.

"Another good day" was the hospital's summation of the 72-year-old soldier - statesman's response to treatment yesterday. Marshall, winner of the 1953 Nobel Peace Prize, has been at Walter Reed since Sunday.

Administrator For Hospital To Be Selected

Decision to interview applicants for the position of hospital administrator for Marion General Hospital next Wednesday was made at the first meeting of the newly appointed Hospital Board of control last night.

Mayor Harold F. Robinson, serving as chairman of the control board, said that three applications have been received for the position. More applications likely will be received before next Wednesday and names of all applicants will be released at that time, he said.

At the meeting last night, which was also a joint meeting with the Hospital Board of Commissioners, lots were drawn to determine the terms of office of each of the members of the control board.

Decision to meet again next Wednesday night to interview applicants was made after the Board of Commissioners urged the control board to appoint an administrator as soon as possible, Robinson said.

The Commissioners have been in charge of the planning of the new city-county hospital, is presently supervising its construction and will govern its operation until the Board of Control assumes this responsibility.

The Commissioners asked the Board of Control to appoint the administrator quickly so that he or she might be in on all the planning for the operation of the hospital.

Terms of office of the Board of Control members as determined last night by the drawing of lots as required under Ohio law are as follows:

Ellis H. Oiler and Dr. Richard A. Dietrich, four years; Leon McCorkle and John W. Watters, three years; Dr. M. M. Weinbourn and Mrs. Mary Axthelm, two years; and Harold J. Griggsby and Felix Reber, one year.

U.S. Efforts For Meetings Fall Through

Eisenhower and Dulles Give Up After Latest Refusal by Russians

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles apparently have despaired of negotiating major world problems with Russia any time soon on a basis acceptable to them.

The Soviets two days ago rebuffed the latest invitation from the United States, Britain and France to attend a foreign ministers' meeting on Germany and Austria.

Meet on Strategy

The Western powers are due to consult today on their next move. Informed sources said it was questionable whether any further bid would be sent to the Kremlin.

The Western governments are far more concerned about the impact of Moscow's latest message on opinion in France and elsewhere in western Europe than they are about Russia's behavior in the present circumstances. The United States in particular has been pressing for early approval of the projected six-nation European Defense Community (EDC).

If for reasons of western European politics, there is pressure to send another message to Moscow, it very likely will be sent. But if, as officials here hope, Russian opposition to negotiation about Germany or anything else on terms acceptable to the West is now sufficiently established to promote EDC ratification, then the long series of East-West exchanges will be dropped.

Blocking Peace Moves

President Eisenhower, in an extraordinary statement issued yesterday at his news conference, accused the Soviet Union of blocking all along the line attempts by the United States and its allies to "get to grips with the Soviet" on major world problems.

He said the Russians' "negative" note had not only rejected a bid to a foreign ministers meeting on Germany and Austria, at Lugano, Switzerland, next Monday, but had also set up "impossible conditions" in a move to "prevent such a conference."

Putting it another way, the President said the Russians showed no sign of wanting to get together with the Western powers but, on the contrary, disclosed "an intention to create as many difficulties as possible."

In the present case he recalled American efforts going back to last July toward arranging a meeting on German unification and Austrian independence. He mentioned efforts in the United Nations to limit arms and restrict atomic weapons. He referred to negotiations for a Korean political conference.

Overall, the President said, peace is the American goal and this country will continue to "be ready to discuss any issue with

Will Press Soviets

Britain's Door Still Open To Talks, Eden Declares

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said today Britain will continue to press for talks with the Soviet Union "at any level."

Eden told the House of Commons:

"The House will see that despite the disappointments our broad purpose remains unchanged. If others choose to slam their doors and barricade them ours will remain open. Talks at any level remain our objective, for our work is a work for peace which we shall not abandon."

Received With Cheers

The chamber reverberated with cheers as Eden wound up a foreign affairs speech with this statement, which obviously kept alive the plans of Prime Minister Churchill for talks between the heads of the big three Western powers and Soviet Premier Georgie Malenkov.

The "disappointments" to which Eden referred were obviously the continued Russian rejection or evasion of a Western invitation to join in foreign minister talks on the future of Germany and Austria.

Eden said the latest Soviet note, ignoring a Western invitation to discuss Germany and Austria at a Big Four foreign ministers meeting at Lugano, Switzerland, Nov. 9, laid down "extensive and unacceptable conditions."

Would Bar Unity

"If we accepted those conditions, that would undermine our security and make it impossible for Germany to regain her unity in freedom," he told the House of Commons.

Speaking in a foreign affairs debate on the speech of Queen Elizabeth at the opening of Parliament Tuesday, Eden declared:

"It is hard to find any sign that the Soviet government has modified its fundamental hostility to the Western nations."

Seated in rear are U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and Mme. V. L. Pandit, president of the Assembly. King Paul told the Assembly he "believes the world is moving toward ultimate unity despite threats of atomic and hydrogen bomb war."

Where's That Overcoat?

Winter Near as Mercury Drops to 22, Snow Falls

A sign that winter is just around the corner was the first snow of the season in Marion this morning.

Also, the lowest temperature to date for the fall was recorded during the night as the mercury dipped to 22 degrees.

Top coats, scarves and gloves were brought out of storage this morning as adults going to work and school children left homes for the day's activities.

The first snowflakes fell about 10 a.m., and within 10 minutes the fall became quite heavy. The flurries began in Michigan last night and moved down through Ohio today.

First snow last year occurred on Oct. 28 when a slight snowfall was recorded.

Forecast for tonight is clear and cold, with the lowest temperature expected to be around 20. Friday has been predicted to be fair and cool.

High temperature in Marion yesterday was 57, while a year ago, the mercury readings were a high of 63 and a low of 32. Previous low temperature reading this fall was on Oct. 28 when a low of 28 was recorded.

Chicago Gets Four-Inch Snowfall as Cold Arrives

By The Associated Press

The season's coldest weather accompanied by snow brought a stinging foretaste of winter to the Midwest today.

Michigan's Port Huron area was hit with a sudden 12-inch snowstorm which caught city workers off guard and snarled traffic until snow crews could be mobilized. The heavy fall was local in nature, but lesser amounts were widespread.

The snow carpet spread as far south as Indiana where it accumulated to a depth of two inches at Gary and Calumet. More than four inches fell in the Chicago area, turning to slush on streets and sidewalks.

Wide areas in the northeast received snowfalls which were light in sections.

The lowest temperatures of the season were recorded throughout most of the northern and central Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes region. Cold spots included Grantsburg, Wis., where the mercury dipped to 1 above zero, and Elkader, Iowa, where it was 6 above. Near zero readings were general in northern Wisconsin.

Atomic Energy Act Reported Under Revision

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today the Atomic Energy Commission is drafting a series of important amendments to the atomic energy act.

A Washington dispatch to the Times by James Reston said the amendments are designed to increase the participation of private industry in the program at home and to liberalize the exchange of atomic information among the Allies.

The amendments would do these things, the story said:

1. Enable private industry to own or rent fissionable material and to own and operate reactors under proper controls. They cannot do either at present.

2. Give the Atomic Energy Commission greater discretion in the exchange of atomic and thermonuclear information. This is strictly limited by the act, though it is subject to various interpretations.

3. Liberalize the rigid patent system that now governs all developments in this field so that private industry will have greater incentives to put its dollars, manpower and brains into these projects.

4. Revise the security system so that it is not necessary to get or evade the high 'Q' clearance for laborers on atomic energy projects.

5. Remove certain technicalities in the act in order to remove any doubt that violations of the law cover not only the atomic energy program but the thermonuclear (hydrogen bomb) program as well.

In Washington, the Atomic Energy Commission had no comment on the reported draft legislation.

U.S. Threatens Cut in Aid to Israeli, Arabs

Factions Told America Can't Bear Financial Burden Indefinitely

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The United States has warned Israel and neighboring Arab states that America cannot bear indefinitely the financial burdens imposed by their failure to agree on a settlement of the Palestine refugee question.

The warning was voiced yesterday by U. S. Delegate James P. Richards, a Democratic congressman from South Carolina, in speaking to the 60-nation special political committee.

Urges Joint Action

Richards urged Israel and the Arab nations bordering on the Jordan River to join in the irrigation and hydroelectric development of the river and help the 800,000 refugees driven from Israeli soil by the Palestine War.

He called on Israel to start thinking about compensating the refugees for their land or allowing them to return, asserting it would be in the best interests of both sides if something were done as soon as possible.

The refugees are now being supplied with necessities through a 200-million-dollar U.N. fund, designed to keep them going until mid-1955. The bulk of the money was contributed by the United States.

Has Full U. S. Backing

Richards said the United States gave full backing to a Jordan River development plan, drawn up by the Tennessee Valley Authority. The 121-million-dollar project would water land for the refugees and supply power for industries in Israel, Jordan and Syria.

Although President Eisenhower has sent Eric Johnston, former head of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, to the Middle East in an attempt to sell the idea, Arab reaction thus far has been negative.

There has been no official Israeli reaction to the plan. The Israeli government however, has temporarily suspended work in its own Jordan irrigation scheme while the U.N. Security Council debates Arab claims that the project disturbed Middle East peace.

Late Report Boosts Margin of Charter

Addition of the unofficial count of the city charter vote in Precinct 2-B makes a total unofficial "yes" vote of 3,438 and a "no" vote of 2,981, election board officials reported today.

Through a mixup workers of that precinct did not report the charter vote on their returns Tuesday evening. The count was 89 to 70 in the precinct in favor of the formation of a city charter commission.

Efforts To Set Peace Talks Get Nowhere

Communists Agree 'To Think Over' U.S. Envoy's Suggestion

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Arthur Dean, U.S. envoy, suggested today that top Allied and Communist diplomats abandon temporarily efforts to arrange a Korean peace conference and turn over to subcommittees disputes which have stalled the preliminary talks.

The Communists promptly said "no," then agreed to think about it overnight. They promised an answer at 11 a.m. tomorrow (9 p.m. today EST).

Closed Sessions

Dean, noting the high level negotiators have gotten nowhere, told newsmen he felt staff advisers could have a "freer exchange of ideas." They presumably would meet in closed sessions.

Dean said the top delegates now "sit like bumps on a log" and have "no give and take" in their deliberations.

The envoy also said the lower-level negotiators might divide up with one group debating the time and place for the conference and another thrashing out the major issue—who will attend.

The preliminary talks to arrange the peace parley have been stalled from the start over Red insistence that neutrals be invited and that this question lead the agenda for the Panmunjom discussions.

Possibly Russia

But Dean, speaking for the nations which fought against the Red armies in Korea, insists only the belligerents and possibly Russia attend the conference and wants the first order of business here to be a decision on time and place for the conference.

The U.N. Assembly has fixed composition of the conference and Dean is not authorized to change it.

Dean picked Kenneth Young, director of the office of northeast Asian (Japan and Korea) affairs of the Department of State and Col. Stanton Babcock, a senior adviser, to represent him at lower level meetings if they are held.

The Communists called an hour-long recess to mull over Dean's proposition. Their first reaction was definitely unfavorable, if not an outright rejection.

Top Level Matter

The North Korean foreign ministry councilor, Ki Sok Bok, spokesman for the Reds told Dean his side feels the agenda "must be settled" at the top level.

The Red delegates called it "inappropriate" to refer the dispute to staff workers.

But Ki promised to give the plan further study and "comment on it tomorrow."

The deadline recommended in the armistice for opening the parley, Oct. 27, already has passed.

Pickens Begins 20-Year Term At Mansfield

Willie Pickens, 22-year-old Marionite recently found guilty of second degree manslaughter, was taken to the Mansfield Reformatory Wednesday to begin a one-to-20 year sentence after a motion for a new trial was denied by a three-judge panel.

Pickens' manslaughter charge resulted from the July 19 deaths of H. W. Crissinger, 71, and Harry Mathias, 56, both of Marion, in a traffic collision on Route 30-S near Caledonia.

The two men were passengers in a car driven by Dan Matthews, 33, also of Marion. The Pickens and Matthews cars collided head-on. It was claimed that Pickens was driving in the wrong lane of traffic when the accident occurred.

A third passenger in the Matthews car, Harold B. Harper, 49, also of Marion, died Aug. 19 of injuries sustained in the accident.

Pickens waived trial by jury in favor of the three-judge panel. Sitting on the panel were Common Pleas Judges Paul D. Smith of Marion, F. Leroy Allen of Marysville, and Marion T. Owen of Urbana.

A Good Dessert for Weight-Watchers

Low Calorie Fruit Mold Recommended as Help For Heavy People

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

It's easier to diet than you think—if you follow the Sensible School of Weight-Watching

Let us make clear that we are not advising persons who are greatly overweight They need to consult their doctors We're talking to the ladies on whom last year's suit feels a little tight

That tell-tale roll of flesh around your middle making your waistband bulge? The mirror—to say nothing of the scales—silent witness to the fact that you've gained some extra pounds? Then you are hereby elected to our Club

First rule of the Weight-Watchers Association is that every day you eat the protective foods that give you the protein, vitamins and minerals you need That means most of the time you take it you eat meat, poultry or fish, dairy foods vegetables and fruit. You also eat cereal and bread for the food values and satisfaction they contribute

Second rule of the Club is that you always have breakfast Three evenly-spaced meals a day, with mid-morning and mid-afternoon pickups, will help prevent you from getting over-hungry at any one time and keep your body functioning at its best

But it's right at breakfast that weight-watching starts You have an egg without fat—poached or soft-cooked, never fried You drink orange juice or eat grapefruit without sugar.

GRAPEFRUIT AND WHITE GRAPES molded in gelatin—a pretty dessert weight-watchers can enjoy.

You're used to cream in your coffee? Well if you must you start by adding one teaspoon instead of a couple of tablespoons most of the time you take it black

You spread your crisp slice of toast with one teaspoon instead of a large square of butter or margarine Or if you like the crisp crunchy taste of ready-to-eat cereal, you take it without sugar and with nonfat milk

At lunch and dinner you enjoy meat, chicken or turkey, fish or cottage cheese But you cut the fat away from those chops or that steak, you quietly leave the gravies You eat your vegetables without sauces, your salads without mayonnaise or oil dressings You learn how delightful an herb-flavored vinegar—garlic, basil or tarragon—tastes on hot cooked vegetables and salads

You have a mid-morning or afternoon snack, a glass of tomato juice, nonfat milk or buttermilk Maybe a cup of coffee or tea — but no Danish pastry!

You have one dessert a day, but you choose the low-fat, low-sugar desserts and cut down on quantities You make, for instance a grapefruit and orange gelatin dessert and put in your prettiest mold Soon you enjoy the clean tangy taste of such a dish and are ready to bypass the fudge cake a la mode except when you go on an occasional splurge.

PRETTY FRUIT MOLD

Ingredients: 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin, 1 cup very hot water, 1 cup unsweetened grapefruit juice (fresh or canned), dash of salt, 1 cup diced membrane - free grapefruit sections (fresh), 1 cup halved seeded white grapes

Method: Dissolve gelatin in hot water Chill until slightly thickened fold in grapefruit and grapes Pour into mold Chill until firm Makes 7 servings

Tax Cuts Are Certain

As the days roll by, the budgetary problems mount up and by the time Congress reconvenes in January it'll have its hands full with just money problems.

Expiration of the excess profits tax Jan. 1 brings some tax relief to corporations now in the excess profits category—at a revenue loss to the Treasury of about two billion dollars annually.

Another two billion dollar loss would occur if the scheduled cut in the regular corporation income tax rate takes effect next April 1. In the Revenue Act of 1951, Congress increased corporation income tax rates from 25 to 30 per cent on the first $25,000 and from 47 to 52 per cent on the remainder of regular income. At the same time the excess profits rate was boosted from 77 to 82 per cent.

After a battle in Congress this year, the excess profits tax was continued until Jan. 1. The regular tax rate was to be reduced automatically to the old 47 per cent figure April 1.

President Eisenhower has asked that the 52 per cent rate be continued for the present acknowledging that it "is too high for the long run." He said, "The budget will not now permit a reduction in both individual and regular corporate tax rates. A reduction in individual taxes must come first, for the benefit of the entire economy."

The reduction in the individual income tax rate which goes into effect Jan. 1 will cut the Treasury's revenue by three billion dollars.

Republican leaders in Congress want to avoid the kind of open battle that occurred last session when the excess profits tax was extended.

It seems doubtful that the full 5 per cent drop to 47 per cent will be permitted with some congressmen mentioning the possibility of a compromise at about 50 per cent

It isn't likely to be settled too peacefully and of course not entirely satisfactorily, but one thing is certain. There will be some tax relief to individuals and corporations in 1954.

The Fifth Amendment

"I refuse to testify on the grounds that it might incriminate me."

That's a mighty overworked answer these days and it's giving the Fifth Amendment (our Bill of Rights) sorry abuse.

Soon after Congress meets, the House is expected to take action to prevent some witnesses before congressional committees from refusing to answer questions lest they incriminate themselves.

A bill aimed at such refusals was passed July 9 by the Senate but Attorney General Brownell has raised objections to certain aspects of it.

The Senate bill provides that a witness before a congressional investigating committee after using the standard answer may be voted immunity from prosecution based on his testimony.

Then he couldn't claim any answer he gave could be used against him in a federal case.

Two-thirds of the committee, including at least two members of the minority party, would have to vote for immunity and the attorney general would have to be informed at least one week before the vote was to be taken. If he objected, the committee could grant it only upon authorization of the Senate or House

Brownell argues that immunity would enable some criminals to escape the punishment they richly deserve.

The question seems to be whether it is better to forego punishing the person to gain information or whether to seek the information elsewhere and keep the person subject to punishment upon establishment of a case.

There is little doubt the safeguard against self-incrimination is being abused but just how far we can go in solving the situation is Congress' knotty problem.

International Agreements

Amazing as it may seem, governments of the East and West in Europe have found one thing to agree upon—timber

Forestry experts and timber traders from 23 countries have concluded a conference at which an agreement was reached to insure adequate timber supplies for expected European requirements for the next 10 to 20 years.

Among the nations agreeing were Albania, Italy, Poland, France, Germany, United Kingdom, Russia, Yugoslavia and the United States.

The policy outlined four main elements: increased cuttings, increased imports, long-term expansion of forests and maintenance of reasonable prices for wood

This development won't set the world on end, but it does show that the nations of the world can agree, once in awhile Perhaps some of these foresters should be turned loose in an attempt to settle the political and more complicated issues.

Time for Decisions

By David Lawrence

Next 12 Months Hold Fate of Republicans

One year from now the political issues will be far different from what they are today.

Looking ahead in the next twelve months, the real problem which the Republican administration will face is whether or not a recession or depression will have arisen to bring unemployment. If relatively prosperous conditions prevail throughout the country, the Republican party could conceivably make gains. An adverse economic situation would hurt the party in power.

The Republican administration here has not been in office long enough to get the feel of the political situation. It has hardly gotten acquainted with the basic questions of government policy, yet attacks have come from the Democrats, particularly on the farm front.

Republican members of Congress from the farm belt say privately they are glad a general congressional election wasn't being held this autumn.

THEY SENSE that economic disaffection is showing up in the agricultural regions

Most of it is due either to drought conditions or to a drop in cattle prices or both

Everyone knows that no cure that can be devised now can recoup the losses due to such a turn of fate

In politics they don't reason out whether the administration in power is responsible — the voters remember only the age-old slogans that under one kind of administration they have had good times and that under another kind they have had bad times.

It doesn't matter which party has suffered from this kind of criticism in the past — both have experienced the same hostility from the electorate

Thus, in the period from 1896 to 1912, the Democrats were in the political doghouse because of the panic of 1893. Every Republican stump speaker year after year reminded the voters about it on every occasion.

IT WAS a long time before the Democrats got back into power—and then only when an economic issue arose in 1910 as the high cost of living became acute and was blamed on tariff policies of the Republicans.

The same thing happened to the Republicans in 1932 when the depression struck hard, and the voters thereafter only remembered that times got bad under a Republican administration

In the next 20 years there were minor recessions but a war boom kept the Democrats in power. Only in 1946, when government controls upset the housewife and caused a meat shortage, did the Republicans win Congress.

The prosperity of the country in 1948 gave Truman and the Democratic Congress another lease on life.

Then in 1950 the outbreak of the Korean war, with its consequent inflation and soaring wage levels, developed a political boon for the Democrats.

ECONOMIC ISSUES are controlling, however, only if there are no countervailing factors.

In 1952, with the nation still in its most prosperous condition, there were emotional issues which superseded all else. Thus, the resentment about the Korean war, Communism in government, and corruption in government operations, especially with respect to tax-filing, all added up to the negative verdict which was rendered against the party in power — the Democrats.

Will November 1954 show a substantial change in the economic picture? If so, the party out of power will gain and the Republicans will lose. If, on the other hand, cattle prices rebound upward and the agricultural situation as a whole improves, the Republicans will be the beneficiaries

A tax cut is coming next January both for individuals and corporations, and the Republicans will have a chance in the next session to make a record on economy and to demonstrate some progress toward a balanced budget.

THESE ARE not spectacular issues, but they can be dramatized—especially if it becomes clear to the public that a return of the Democratic power to control may mean a commitment to extravagance and waste that could cause confidence in the dollar to drop.

It will not be a one-sided debate by any means and the campaign will be fought on more issues than the price of cattle or whether the price-support policy has been properly applied. For the next session undoubtedly will bring legislation on agriculture passed with an eye toward retaining Republican votes in the farm belt.

Whatever this year's elections—largely local—may convey as lessons to the politicians, the campaign next year will be preceded by a six or seven months' session of Congress in which the issues along party lines will be developed sharply — a contract to the last session that really marked time in both parties

Unusual Fare

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON

You may not know what you're eating, much less how to pronounce it, but the exotic fare served at dinner tables and party buffets around town leave no unsated appetites for those who pass up dinner at home and try the "free-loading" technique.

You're likely to find whale steak at the Finnish legation, curry at the Indian Embassy, caviar at the Russian or kangaroo at the Australian

Here's a sample of the luncheons Mme. Koo, wife of the Chinese ambassador gives:

A first course of shredded chicken, pork and radishes in sweet and sour sauce and deviled eggs, then chicken broth with floating spinach leaves and bits of cooked egg white; fried shrimp, pork tidbits, mushrooms and bean curd cakes and small meatballs, a serving of herb-flavored roast duck with hot wilted lettuce, a dessert of crushed dates and a ginger sauce, and almond custard squares.

Attractive Yvonne Abdy, talented musician daughter of an Australian movie actor and producer, who is a member of the Indian Embassy staff, pops up the taste buds of her guests with a sumptuous cake soaked in Scotch.

At the huge Indonesian Embassy, once the home of Thomas F. Walsh, "Father Struck it Rich" papa of the late socialite Evalyn Walsh McLean, they serve highly seasoned Eastern dishes of chicken and rice, beef with hot peppers, bamboo sprouts with salmon colored pennut sauce and cakes of honey and nuts. Such were the delicacies to grace the reception given for the new U S ambassador to Indonesia, Hugh S. Cumming and his wife

Cumming, who served as deputy Secretary General of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) in Paris after two years with the American Embassy in Moscow, is the son of the late Dr. Hughes S. Cumming, former surgeon general of the U S Public Health Service Mrs Cumming is the daughter of a Washington "eavedwelfer" socialite, Mrs. Frank West.

Love Me, Love My Dog

Ike Weak on Political Counterattack

By Raymond Moley

I have a letter on the recent cattle hullabaloo from a friend in California whose perception has been sharpened rather than dulled by confinement in his home with a long and serious illness. An eye complication limits his reading but seems to tone up his thinking.

He has laid his finger on precisely the spot where the Eisenhower administration is weakest. The deficiency may well be the reason why it is so easy for the opposition to spread the belief that the administration and the 83rd Congress are slipping in popular esteem.

When such an impression is promulgated successfully, a political regime actually does slip, and unless there is a remedy, it will ultimately fall.

What my friend writes is that the General of the Army and his associate generals now running the government of the United States do not seem to know how to counterattack in political warfare.

HIS LETTER goes on to say:

"Take, for example, the 350 'cattlemen' who just conducted a bonus march on Washington It would be interesting to know how many of the alleged 'cattlemen' were actually in the cattle business five years ago or ten years ago, in fact, even now

"What the administration needs — I called it a 'publicity department,' but I guess I mean a spokesman. There is a pretty good one in Congress, down at the street fighting level, in Senator McCarthy

"There is need for someone of such controversial power, in the administration, but at the front porch or even the parlor level It needs someone who can respond appropriately to a pious, platitudinous Kefauver without getting the President into a backstairs brawl.

"There didn't seem to be anyone who would point out that those 'cattlemen' were strictly synthetic.

"There was plenty of sound logic behind Benson, but nobody brought it out in a way that the mass of people could understand . For want of a competent spokesman the Republicans are about to lose the battle without getting their guns loaded."

-:-

ANOTHER PERSON who criticizes the failure of the administration to answer this cattle attack says that the "press" failed to expose the caravan for what it was.

The press is not the keeper of the administration's interests. It prints what is news, and when no answer is made to a political attack, about all it can do is to publicize the attack Here and there items have appeared in the press that, taken together, could have destroyed the whole effect of the caravan

One item said that a leader was not a cattleman after all, that he grew spinach.

Another was that one member of the caravan was actually a cattleman and that while he was in Washington giving out about bankruptcy 50 head of his yearling steers were sold in Sioux City for $1 per hundred pounds. The 100 per cent parity figure on October 15 was $20 80

-:-

IN A SITUATION like this the administration has all the facts and plenty of people to collect and organize them in a counterattack

It was a matter of common knowledge that the "team" that worked for Patton of the Farmers' Union was Brannan, Baker, and Geissler of the Truman Department of Agriculture, and that one McCune, formerly of that department, was working on publicity for the Democratic National Committee.

As his letter indicates, my friend is not thinking of a demagogic "hatchetman" to answer for the administration. Neither am I — but in every effective administrative setup there are articulate — sometimes fiercely articulate — people to speak up, give facts and figures, and name names.

Can anyone imagine Henry Wallace, when secretary of agriculture, remaining silent or turning the other cheek in the face of such an attack?

We may have strongly disapproved of the reckless way in which Harold Ickes spoke for the Roosevelt administration, but he was articulate, and he knew that these matters are struggles for political existence and cannot be settled by soft talk.

The President does not answer such attacks — but someone under his general direction should. The answer should not wait too long after the attack.

Malady Challenges Science

By Thomas R. Henry

The most dreaded of all nerve-muscle diseases is Amyotropic Lateral Sclerosis — better known as Lou Gehrig's disease. This was the incurable malady which caused the death of the great New York Yankees' ball player.

It has just been found that the condition is more than 30 times as prevalent among the native population of Guam and Saipan as anywhere else in the world. This has led to an all-out effort of the National Institute of Neurological diseases, in cooperation with the Navy and with the Interior Department which governs Guam, to get at the bottom of this mysterious illness with plenty of material for study.

It is, some neurologists have claimed, hereditary. The prevalence on two Pacific islands gives some support to this hypothesis, but is by no means accepted as proof. The major effort will be to find some factor in the local ways of life, not present on other Pacific islands where there are no unusual number of victims, which may in some way account for it

It is a combination, explains Dr. Pierce Bailey, director of the neurological institute, of two quite distinct kinds of paralysis One is the type commonly encountered in polio The motor nerve to muscles fails to function. The muscles themselves become weak, flabby, and gradually waste away. The other is due to muscular rigidity —inability to contract when stimulated

This is the condition encountered in muscular distrophy. There is no flabbiness or wasting or muscle substance Both types are present in Amyotrophic Sclerosis. The disease usually strikes in middle life and progresses rapidly to a fatal conclusion. The longest duration to be expected is about three years. When the breathing muscles are affected, the victim suffocates.

The cause is completely unknown. It has been attributed to a deficiency of vitamin E. An actual deficiency, however, would be quite improbable in an American with a normal diet such as would be furnished an athlete like Gehrig. There would be no reason for such a deficiency in the diet of natives of Guam or Saipan, either.

There is a possibility, Dr. Bailey explains, that the real deficiency is in something necessary for the body's utilization of the vitamin, or a defect in the general metabolic system Administration of Vitamin E brings no relief to victims.

Heredity, Dr. Bailey explains, is "just an easy explanation." There may be a hereditary factor, but it is difficult to prove. Even if it can be demonstrated in the Guam population — where presumably everybody is in some degree related to everybody else — there would be no real advance toward an understanding.

It has been assumed that the malady is very rare in the United States and Western Europe. It very seldom appears on death records This really proves nothing, however, because a physician would be likely to report the actual cause of death as pneumonia. The disease per se is not reportable

Recent evidence indicates that it is much more common than is generally supposed, although it is hardly possible that the incidence is as high as in Guam. Veterans' hospitals throughout the country, however, now are reporting about three cases a week and there is no reason to suppose that the incidence should be greater among veterans than among other men of the same age group. These cases, however, are widely scattered, whereas the disease seems concentrated among relatively small populations on the two Pacific islands.

Federal Payroll Up

MONTEVIDEO (AP)—Official figures show that 145 691 Uruguayans are on the government payroll in this country of less than 2½ million inhabitants. Economists said the figures fail to take into account a great number of part-time state employes

Moreover, there are 60,000 living off old-age pensions as former industrial and commercial employes, and 16 000 old-age pensioners from the public services

The newspaper La Manana said half a million Uruguayans now depend for their living on direct government funds.

Issue To Be Met in '54

Tuesday's Election Not Real Administration Test

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—When President Eisenhower endorsed all Republican candidates in Tuesday's elections, some political experts said the results would show how the voters feel about his administration.

The results, mostly victories for the Democrats, probably showed no such thing although Democrats crowed and some Republicans moaned. The real test for the administration will come in the 1954 elections for control of Congress.

To suggest Eisenhower was the issue in Tuesday's elections is to ignore three main points the kind of endorsement he gave his party's candidates; voters' independent judgment, and local political issues, including scandals.

Eisenhower backed his party's candidates only in general. He did not directly endorse, by name or record, a single Republican candidate.

A voter could not be expected to close his eyes to the issues and the character and promises of the candidates and vote Republican simply because Eisenhower said he wanted Republicans elected. There were plenty of local issues.

The election results, which certainly jolted the Republicans, may benefit the country as a whole.

Fear of the same treatment in next year's congressional elections may spur the Republicans into more activity in Congress and more leadership in the administration.

Eisenhower, at his news conference yesterday, made it clear he expects his administration to be judged more by what it does next year than by what it produced this year. He repeated what he has said before.

He hopes that the record of accomplishments by his administration in 1954 will bring the Republicans victory at the polls next November and continue them in control of Congress.

The Democratic victory in Virginia's race for governor not only was expected—it would have been a sensation if the result had been otherwise. The Democratic organization in Virginia, headed by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, is probably the best entrenched in the nation.

Democrat Robert F Wagner Jr. won the New York City mayor's job in a landslide after a campaign jammed with conflicts, issues, promises.

New York City traditionally has been Democratic. Besides being the son of a famous father—the late senator for whom he is named—young Wagner had formidable backing. Tammany Hall; New York Democrats like Sen. Herbert Lehman, Averell Harriman and Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and national-scene Democrats like former President Truman and Adlai Stevenson, the party's 1952 presidential nominee.

In addition, Wagner was helped by a scandal in the state Republican administration over convicted racketeer Joey Fay.

Fay also figured in the New Jersey gubernatorial election, in which Democrat Robert B Meyner beat Republican Paul L. Troast. This race, dull at the start, picked up steam when it was learned Troast had asked New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for clemency for Fay. But the Republicans retained control of the New Jersey Legislature.

The real shock for the Republicans came in New Jersey's 6th congressional district race, won by Democrat Harrison A. Williams Jr. He won by 2,000 votes in a district which went Republican by 54 000 votes in 1952 The Democrats themselves thought so poorly of Williams' chances that the House Campaign Committee didn't send in any money to help him.

Only a month ago the Republicans suffered a similar shock in Wisconsin's 9th congressional district, which had never gone Democratic before. The Democrat who won made promises while the Republican candidate generally stood on Eisenhower's record.

In that farm belt district Eisenhower may have been an issue, truly, for the election gave farmers a chance to show any dissatisfaction with Eisenhower's farm policy.

ROK Envoy Says Reds Violate Truce

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The South Korean ambassador to the United States, here for a lecture today, says the Communists are violating the Korean truce and will launch "the most horrible of all wars."

Dr. You Chan Yang, in an interview last night, said the Reds are using the Korean truce to stockpile bombs and planes and settle their internal troubles.

When the time is ripe, he continued, "they will start the most horrible of all wars." He said the Reds had rebuilt 30 North Korean airfields and despite truce pledges are bringing in crated planes.

A social hour followed the program. Mrs. George Baron and Mrs. Clark Metz were welcomed as new members. Mrs. John Head and Mrs. Edward Fox were guests.

Although some brilliant men have small brains, indications are that large brains and high intelligence often go together.

ENTERS CONVENT. Marie Dionne, one of the 19-year-old Callander, Ont., quintuplets, smiles from behind the severe garb of a Quebec City cloistered nuns' order, the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament. At the convent she will spend her days in silence, prayer and work.

Conviction of Keno Operator Is Upheld

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's highest court has ruled the City of Columbus acted within its rights when it convicted a woman for operating a game similar to bingo.

Mrs. Clarissa Barr, who claimed she was operating a keno game for charity, was convicted under an ordinance banning possession of lottery tickets.

Mrs. Barr contended the city ordinance conflicted with a state law providing penalties only for gambling conducted for the operator's profit. An appeals court reversed the decision.

Yesterday the state Supreme Court ruled the Legislature did not by indirection legalize gambling if carried on not for profit. It said Columbus could legislate with respect to lotteries unless the city's law violated state statutes

350,000 Take Part in Capital Air Raid Tests

Ike Leads Way in Civil Defense Test as Public Goes Into Shelters

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government, with President Eisenhower leading the way, scrambles for shelter today in a mythical air raid on the nation's capital.

Some 350,000 adults and children are taking part. The exercise, first of its kind here, calls for evacuating federal buildings from the White House down, and public and parochial schools as well.

Eisenhower, who directed all government agencies to cooperate "to the fullest extent possible," planned to take part himself

The White House announced the President will descend to the White House bomb shelter, whose exact position is a secret. It was rebuilt and strengthened in the recent White House reconstruction at a cost of more than $750,000.

The take-shelter drill begins with the flashing of a "warning red" alert, meaning imminent attack, one hour after a test "warning yellow," meaning enemy planes spotted approaching the country The 15-minute alert ends with an all clear signal

The city's 38 air raid sirens were called into use They are only half the number needed to cover the city, so 70 police and fire sirens were pressed into service.

Traffic and normal business activities were not interrupted for today's drill although a number of apartment house dwellers were invited to take part.

The exercise will continue at 7 p.m. (EST) when the District of Columbia joins civil defense organizations in Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Ohio in a communications drill not involving the public.

White House press secretary, James C. Hagerty, said the White House shelter provides ready access to the President and his staff

Barberton Girl, 16, Burns to Death in Vain Try at Rescue

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A 16-year-old Barberton High School girl was burned to death today while attempting to save her brothers and sisters from their flaming house

Leola McKinney, daughter of Mr and Mrs. V. O McKinney, apparently was trapped in their blazing Krieder Ave home after she re-entered it to rescue the children.

She was unaware that her mother had broken a window and pulled out the last of the youngsters

In serious condition at Akron's Childrens Hospital were Virginia 1, and Mary Elizabeth 6 who suffered burns Less seriously injured were David, 1, V O Jr., 4, Mamie Lee, 8, and Robert Lee, 2 who were taken to City Hospital for observation

Firemen said the blaze started after the father, a molder at the Wadsworth foundry, built a fire this morning in the five-room bungalow's living room fireplace before he left for work.

Strike of Rail, Ship Clerks Likely To Spread

DETROIT (AP)—The strike of the AFL Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks against the Railway Express Agency in Detroit Milwaukee and Pittsburgh threatens to spread to 15 additional cities

The Detroit strike now is in its 15th day It was called, as were those in Milwaukee and Pittsburgh in an attempt to force a 30-cent hourly pay increase.

Among cities listed where strikes are imminent was Cincinnati.

Patrol Arrests Driver After Truck Collision

One accident was reported in Morrow County today by patrolmen from the state highway patrol post in Marion. It happened Wednesday at 11:25 a.m. about two and three-tenths miles north of Mt. Gilead on U. S. Route 42.

According to patrol reports, a tractor-trailer outfit driven by Carl F. Farabee, 33, of Worthington was struck by a truck driven by Harold R Steward, 28, of Belleville.

Patrolmen said the tractor truck had slowed down to allow a mailman to pull away from a rural mail box. The truck driven by Steward did not slow down enough and struck the left rear corner of the tractor truck, reports show.

Damage to the tractor truck was described as very minor, but extensive damage to the pick-up truck was reported.

Steward was arrested and charged with unsafe operation. He posted bond for appearance Friday in the court of justice of the peace R. R. Bennington of Mt. Gilead.

NO ARRESTS REPORTED

Marion police today reported no traffic arrests and only one traffic citation issued during the last 24 hours. A 16-year-old Marion girl was cited to appear before Juvenile Officer Virgil Campbell at 4 p.m. today on a charge of driving the wrong way on a one-way street on Gurley Ave. at 3:30 p.m. yesterday.

State Officer Warns Drivers

Accident Rate in Area Hits Alarming Stage

Corporal D. M. DeWalt of the Marion post of the state highway patrol today warned motorists on the highways in the Marion area that "as long as the accident rate and fatal accident rate stay as high as they are, we will enforce the traffic laws of the state of Ohio to the fullest extent."

Cpl. DeWalt made the statement after reviewing the activities of his post for the month of October. During the month, five persons died in four fatal accidents.

There were a total of 57 accidents. Of these, 27 were classified as personal injury accidents in which 45 persons received injuries.

DeWalt said the accident rate in this area was entirely too high. He reviewed past records and found that, before the area of patrol for his post had been reduced to two counties, the highest number of accidents ever investigated was 93.

The accident rate for Marion and Morrow Counties should be below 50 per month, Cpl. DeWalt said. In September there were 66 accidents, making an average of 61 for the last two months.

Patrolmen here made 219 arrests during October and issued 484 written warnings to motorists for minor violations and equipment defects.

There were 648 telephone calls made from the post and 311 personal calls.

Before the recent reorganization of the highway patrol department, Marion patrolmen w e r e responsible for parts of four counties and the whole of Marion County. Now they are assigned to watch Marion County and part of Morrow County.

DeWalt said the persons killed in the fatal accidents during October were all from Marion County, not from other sections of the state and other states in the country.

Firemen Report 2 Minor Fires Here

Marion firemen were called out to two minor fires during the last 24 hours.

A combination of sparks and leaves resulted in a fire causing $10 loss to the roof of Carl Owens' residence at 634 N. Greenwood St. at 12:19 a.m. today. Firemen said sparks from the chimney evidently ignited leaves on the roof which in turn set the roof on fire. Firemen from the Central and Mark St. stations answered the call.

At 4:47 p.m. yesterday Central station firemen were called to the rear of 191 S. Prospect St. where an automobile owned by Estel Baker of Cottage St. had caught fire. The blaze started when workmen using an acetylene torch on the car got too near a gasoline line and burned a hole in it, firemen reported. There was only small loss, firemen said.

The program is held annually to recognize advisors, clubs and 4-H'ers for their achievements in club work during the year. According to Priscilla Wright, home demonstration agent, all of the special 4-H awards will be presented during the program. She said all of the 4-H fair premiums will be presented as well as the completion certificates and 4-H member pins.

Civil Defense Units Loaned To Fight Fire in McGuffey

Special to The Star

KENTON — Two 2,500-gallon water tank trucks from Hardin County Civil Defense posts have been put into operatoin fighting a muck fire which has smoldered at the edge of nearby McGuffey's village limits for the last eight weeks.

The muck fire, which is not uncommon in the McGuffey area, has covered a 100-acre area during recent weeks and is now confined to a 50-acre corn field at the edge of the village and across the road from a school building Fire departments from McGuffey and Alger, three miles away, have been fighting the fire, which got out of control this week because of a lack of water.

A request was made to the adjutant general's office at Columbus this week by McGuffey Mayor Harold Boyd and the two Civil Defense trucks, which are capable of carrying a sufficient water supply to the fire scene, were put into operation Wednesday about 10 p.m. Water is b e i n g hauled from Alger.

The two tank trucks loaned to fight the fire are regularly stationed at Roundhead in Hardin County and Jewell in Defiance County. Both counties along with Marion and M o r r o w Counties make up a 23-county Civil Defense area with headquarters at Kenton William E. Drews is deputy commander and Cecil J. Davis is commander of the Fourth Area.

Governors' Conference, said if the Republicans discount Tuesday's ballot results, they will be fooling themselves. In an interview at Hot Springs, Va., where the Dixie governors wound up their annual meeting yesterday, Murray said he looks on Tuesday's results as a vital first step in the Democrats' campaign to win control of Congress next year.

Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said on an NBC radio program last night that if the Republicans were going to have a dip in popularity let's have it now and not "next year." All House seats and one-third of the Senate are to be filled then.

He said the Republicans had been busy reducing personnel, cutting expenditures and doing other things that weren't dramatic and didn't have political "it."

Hall promised the administration will advance an "affirmative program" in the session of Congress beginning in January, mentioning a reduction in taxes and a new farm program.

Trouble in California

He told his radio interviewers last night 'we are in trouble' in next Tuesday's special California congressional election. He said two Democrats are running against two Republicans but one Democrat is not making much of a campaign.

This could split the GOP vote and boost the Democrats' chances to make it eight straight House election victories this year.

Eisenhower, questioned about last week's White House statement that he was endorsing all Republican candidates, qualified this somewhat for the future by saying that these candidates must have clean records of honesty and integrity. He said it was conceivable that these conditions might not be met in all cases.

Marlo Barrett Named Student Body President

Marlo Barrett is the new student president of Taft Junior High School. He was elected at regular class elections held Tuesday.

Other officers for the coming year are Barbara Corbin, v i c e president; Rose Cristman, secretary; and Elijah Green, treasurer.

A motion picture on "A Day In Court" was sho members of the Marion Auxiliary Police and Rescue Teams of the State Defense Corps at a meeting last night at City Hall.

The movie, shown by state highway patrolmen, illustrated various problems faced by law enforcement officers in testifying in court.

Marion Police Chief Tom Coon told the group that each of the 24 members is now covered by State Industrial Commission Insurance. This provides for compensation to any auxiliary police or rescue team member who may be injured in performing his duties.

Coon also informed the group that auxiliary police badges will be presented to them about Dec 1. The auxiliary police team, composed of 14 members, is captained by Charles Knachel of 222 S. Grand Ave. and captain of the rescue team of 10 members is William Luse of 642 Cherry St.

Two Suspects In Baby Sitter Case Released

LACROSSE, Wis. (AP)—The stories of two men picked up in Illinois cities after both claimed they knew something about the disappearance of Evelyn Hartley were dismissed by police yesterday as "liquor talk."

Dist. Atty. John Bosshard said the men's boasts were "washed out" in questioning and investigation of their whereabouts during and after the abduction of the 15-year-old baby sitter.

Bosshard and other officials talked with Elder G. Frisled, 26, at Galena, Ill., and John Robert Jeffrey, 24, who said he is a hitchhiker from Texas, in Ottawa, Ill.

Neither will be held further in connection with the Hartley case, Bosshard said.

Miss Hartley has been missing since Oct. 24.

Cat Poor on Mice but Is Splendid Fire Warden

DURANGO, Colo. (AP) — Roy Boughman's cat won't catch mice, but he makes a splendid fire warden.

Puss pawed and purred until he got Boughman out of bed at midnight. Boughman arose, thinking the cat wanted out for a nocturnal stroll.

On his way back from the door, Boughman found the kitchen filled with smoke. He noticed it in time to put out a fire in the wall before serious damage resulted.

Mice apparently started the blaze by chewing on kitchen matches—the same mice the cat steadfastly refuses to chase.

28 Civilians at Army Depot Accused of Theft

Twenty-seven were arrested today, the FBI said, but the 28th was not taken into custody because he is confined to a hospital in Schenectady. He will be arrested later, the FBI added.

All 28 were accused of theft of U. S. government property.

Editors Differ Widely Over Play on News

CHICAGO (AP) — Like many people who read their newspapers, America's editors have widely varying opinions on handling the news.

This was demonstrated yesterday when news executives attending the annual meeting of The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. discussed news coverage of Sen. Joseph McCarthy's activities and the Kinsey report on "Sexual Behavior of the Human Female."

The evaluation of the Kinsey report ranged from Page 1 news story to a publicity plant not worth newspaper space.

McCarthy was described as a 'cheap demagogue' by one editor, while another said the Wisconsin Republican has made significant revelations which all newspapers have not fully treated.

Sam H. Day, of the New York Journal American, said his newspaper played the Kinsey report on Page 1 to give the public the news. He said the reaction to readers was evenly divided.

Ed Dooley, of the Denver Post, said he regarded the Kinsey report as legitimate news for his readers although "I don't think Dr. Kinsey's was a scientific job."

He said the book was more dangerous to the public morals than "Tobacco Road."

But some editors didn't print news stories on the report while others said they carried only brief stories on inside pages without complaints from their readers.

TOKYO, (AP)—The Army said today it will send dismissal notices by Nov. 10 to a "considerable number' of American civilians it employs in the Far East, because of a shortage of funds.

An announcement said the Army also will send dismissal notices to 5,007 Japanese nationals by the same date.

the Soviet under conditions which provide a clear and dependable basis for agreement."

That no such basis exists now has been fully demonstrated by the exchange of notes over Germany. The latest Russian note attacked the whole Western defense system and the EDC particularly. Under EDC West Germany would be rearmed.

The position of the United States, Britain and France is that Russia should agree to unification of Germany without killing EDC because they argue, the defense organization would strengthen European stability and peace.

Every Moscow paper spread accounts of the Rusian reply over a full page. The reply reiterated the Soviet demand for a big five conference, including Communist China, which would be designed to ease world tensions. There would be separate talks, without China, about Germany.

Army Announces New Europe Policy

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — The U. S. Army in Europe announced today a new policy whereby more troops stationed in Germany may have their families join them.

At present many are unable to send for their families because of a shortage of government housing in Germany. The Army's European headquarters here said families of qualified personnel can now be brought over at government expense to live in German tourist-type accommodations until government quarters are available.

"This action, which will be welcomed by many military personnel who face extensive periods of separation from their families is intended to alleviate the adverse morale effects of the present shortage of dependent housing," the announcement said.

Rioting Students Clash With Police in Trieste

TRIESTE (AP)—Scores of Italian student demonstrators and police were injured today in clashes that broke out between them in central streets of this disputed city.

Anti-riot police, motorized and specially equipped for the first time with tear gas bombs, used their clubs.

The students — demonstrating for the second consecutive day—hurled bricks.

At one point, police went after students who had sought refuge in the Church of Saint Anthony, in downtown Trieste, beating them and driving them out of the church and causing panic among persons praying there.

Reports said many were injured, including police and students and taken to hospitals for treatment.

Police took several of the ringleaders into custody.

Hunt Demands Democrats Be Allowed Voice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hunt (D—Wyo) suggested today Democrats should demand the right to name vice chairmen on at least some key Senate committees when Congress meets in January.

He said Senate Democrats, who now outnumber the Republicans by one, "have no desire to take over the committees" or the chairmanships. But, he added in an interview, he believes they are entitled to a greater voice in Senate affairs than apparently has been contemplated.

Committee chairmanships, awarded primarily on the basis of seniority, are coveted positions. They carry with them some patronage and an influence over the course of legislation. Committees do not now have vice chairmen. In the absence of the chairman, the next senior Republican normally presides.

Democrats moved into a numerical edge with the death of Sen. Robert A. Taft (R—Ohio) and the appointment of Thomas A. Burke, a Democrat, to succeed him. There are now 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans and Independent Sen. Morse of Oregon.

Morse has said if the Democrats forced a showdown, he would vote with the GOP on organizing the Senate.

Local Plant Officials Study Tooling Changes

Discussion of tooling changes for 1954 production were discussed at a meeting of officials of Universal Cooler Division of Tecumseh Steel Products and Harrison Radiator and Pontiac Divisions of General Motors Co. held Wednesday at Hotel Harding.

Spokesmen for Universal Cooler Division said the discussion centered mainly on the problems connected with tooling changes necessary for production of air conditioning units for 1954 General Motors models.

Both the Harrison Radiator and Pontiac Divisions of General Motors groups were from the engineering departments of those firms, the spokesman for the local firm said. He declined to list names of officials attending the meeting.

Edison PTA Members Hear School Officials

James Frew, school principal, introduced the speaker and invited the parents to visit the home rooms. Mrs. Virginia Wahlbauer, music teacher at Edison, sang several selections accompanied by Mrs. George Lane on the piano.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. William Dudley, president, and the pledge to the flag was given by Pat Kelleher of Scout troop 2. Rev Norman R. Renn of Fite Memorial Baptist Church gave devotions. The PTA will hold a chili supper Nov. 12.

Three Persons Injured in 6 Auto Accidents

Four Listed in City Traffic; Two Reported On County Highways

Three persons were injured in one of two county accidents reported today by state highway patrolmen from the Marion post.

City police reported four minor, no injury accidents during the last 24 hours.

The three persons injured were Joseph A. Slanser, 51, of 788 E. Church St., Roger Crist, 6, of near Marion, and Mrs. Norma Crist of near Marion.

Slanser was the driver of a car which was reported to have struck the rear end of a pick-up truck at the intersection of Route 4 and county road 138 at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

According to patrol reports, Charles E. Crist, 29, of near Marion was stopped on Route 4, waiting to make a left turn onto the county road when his truck was struck by Slanser's car.

Both Roger and Mrs. Crist, passengers in the truck were taken to City Hospital by a passing motorist. Both had bruises on the head, but Mrs. Crist also had a bruised back and wrenched hip.

Slanser received a bloody nose treated by his personal physician. He was also given a citation to appear in Municipal Court next Tuesday. He was charged with unsafe operation.

The rear end and right side of the truck were badly damaged according to patrol reports. Extensive damage was reported to the front end of Slanser's car.

Another motorist was cited to appear in Municipal Court after an accident at 4:10 p.m. Wednesday on Route 23 just south of Brush Ridge.

Carrol Reece, 43, of Morral was charged with unsafe operation after patrolmen said his car struck the rear of a car driven by Robert A. Shifflet, 23, also of Morral. Patrol reports show Shiflett was stopped on the highway behind two other cars waiting for a school bus which was discharging passengers.

Minor damage was reported to the rear end of the Shiflett car and moderate damage was done to the front end of Reece's car. Reece was cited to appear in court Friday.

In city mishaps, cars driven by John F. Snyder, 59, of 192 St. James St. and Carl I. Karson, 45, of Columbus were damaged in a collision at S. State and Church Sts. at 6:40 a.m. today. Both were traveling north on S. State St. and Snyder was turning left onto E. Church St., police reported.

A Safety Cab Co. taxi driven by F. L. Smith, 43, of 1014 Oak Grove Ave. and a Commercial Motor Freight Co. truck driven by Gerald Mann, 37, of near Harpster were damaged in an accident at E. Center and State Sts. at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday. Police said damage to both vehicles was minor.

A collision at an alley intersection at the rear of Carl's Auto Parts on N. Main St. at 8:19 a.m. Wednesday resulted in minor damage to a car driven by J. P. Henry, 28, of 221 E. Center St. and a truck driven by Herbert Conroy, 19, of 321 N. State St.

The right door and rear fender of a car driven by Phyllis Ann Orsborn of Mt. Gilead and the front bumper of a truck driven by Donald Martin, 26, of near Marion were slightly damaged in a collision at W. Center and Leader Sts. yesterday afternoon, police said. Time of the accident was not reported.

Patrol Arrests Driver After Truck Collision

One accident was reported in Morrow County today by patrolmen from the state highway patrol post in Marion. It happened Wednesday at 11:25 a.m. about two and three-tenths miles north of Mt. Gilead on U. S. Route 42.

According to patrol reports, a tractor-trailer outfit driven by Carl F. Farabee, 33, of Worthington was struck by a truck driven by Harold R. Steward, 28, of Belleville.

Patrolmen said the tractor truck had slowed down to allow a mailman to pull away from a rural mail box. The truck driven by Steward did not slow down enough and struck the left rear corner of the tractor truck, reports show.

Damage to the tractor truck was described as very minor, but extensive damage to the pick-up truck was reported.

Steward was arrested and charged with unsafe operation. He posted bond for appearance Friday in the court of justice of the peace R. R. Bennington of Mt. Gilead.

NO ARRESTS REPORTED

Marion police today reported no traffic arrests and only one traffic citation issued during the last 24 hours. A 16-year-old Marion girl was cited to appear before Juvenile Officer Virgil Campbell at 4 p.m. today on a charge of driving the wrong way on a one-way street on Gurley Ave. at 3:30 p.m. yesterday.

State Officer Warns Drivers

Accident Rate in Area Hits Alarming Stage

Corporal D. M. DeWalt of the Marion post of the state highway patrol today warned motorists on the highways in the Marion area that "as long as the accident rate and fatal accident rate stay as high as they are, we will enforce the traffic laws of the state of Ohio to the fullest extent."

Cpl. DeWalt made the statement after reviewing the activities of his post for the month of October. During the month, five persons died in four fatal accidents.

There were a total of 57 accidents. Of these, 27 were classified as personal injury accidents in which 45 persons received injuries.

DeWalt said the accident rate in this area was entirely too high. He reviewed past records and found that, before the area of patrol for his post had been reduced to two counties, the highest number of accidents ever investigated was 93.

The accident rate for Marion and Morrow Counties should be below 50 per month, Cpl. DeWalt said. In September there were 66 accidents, making an average of 61 for the last two months.

Patrolmen here made 219 arrests during October and issued 484 written warnings to motorists for minor violations and equipment defects.

There were 646 telephone calls made from the post and 311 personal calls.

Before the recent reorganization of the highway patrol department, Marion patrolmen were responsible for parts of four counties and the whole of Marion County. Now they are assigned to watch Marion County and part of Morrow County.

DeWalt said the persons killed in the fatal accidents during October were all from Marion County, not from other sections of the state and other states in the country.

Firemen Report 2 Minor Fires Here

Marion firemen were called out to two minor fires during the last 24 hours.

A combination of sparks and leaves resulted in a fire causing $10 loss to the roof of Carl Owens' residence at 634 N. Greenwood St. at 12:19 a.m. today. Firemen said sparks from the chimney evidently ignited leaves on the roof which in turn set the roof on fire. Firemen from the Central and Mark St. stations answered the call.

At 4:47 p.m. yesterday Central station firemen were called to the rear of 191 S. Prospect St. where an automobile owned by Estel Baker of Cottage St. had caught fire. The blaze started when workmen using an acetylene torch on the car got too near a gasoline line and burned a hole in it, firemen reported. There was only small loss, firemen said.

Wyandot 4-H Members Plan Achievement Night

The program is held annually to recognize advisors, clubs and 4-H'ers for their achievements in club work during the year. According to Priscilla Wright, home demonstration agent, all of the special 4-H awards will be presented during the program. She said all of the 4-H fair premiums will be presented as well as the completion certificates and 4-H member pins.

Three Drivers Charged With Traffic Violations

Three motorists were arrested for violations of traffic laws during the last 24 hours by state patrolmen from the Marion post.

George M. Dunning, 21, of New York City, posted bond for appearance today in Marion Municipal Court. He was charged with excessive speed on route 23 Wednesday morning.

Edward Tohlman, 20, of Toledo was fined $15 and costs in Municipal Court after he had been arrested and charged with passing on a yellow line. Alphus Thompson, 30, of Panama City Bay, Fla., was fined $25 by Mayor Koehler of Upper Sandusky. Thompson was not obliged to pay court costs. He had been charged with excessive speed.

Civil Defense Units Loaned To Fight Fire in McGuffey

Special to The Star

KENTON — Two 2,500-gallon water tank trucks from Hardin County Civil Defense posts have been put into operatoin fighting a muck fire which has smoldered at the edge of nearby McGuffey's village limits for the last eight weeks.

The muck fire, which is not uncommon in the McGuffey area, has covered a 100-acre area during recent weeks and is now confined to a 50-acre corn field at the edge of the village and across the road from a school building. Fire departments from McGuffey and Alger, three miles away, have been fighting the fire, which got out of control this week because of a lack of water.

A request was made to the adjutant general's office at Columbus this week by McGuffey Mayor Harold Boyd and the two Civil Defense trucks, which are capable of carrying a sufficient water supply to the fire scene, were put into operation Wednesday about 10 p.m. Water is being hauled from Alger.

The two tank trucks loaned to fight the fire are regularly stationed at Roundhead in Hardin County and Jewell in Defiance County. Both counties along with Marion and Morrow Counties make up a 23-county Civil Defense area with headquarters at Kenton. William E. Drews is deputy commander and Cecil J. Davis is commander of the Fourth Area.

Governors' Conference, said if the Republicans discount Tuesday's ballot results, they will be fooling themselves. In an interview at Hot Springs, Va., where the Dixie governors wound up their annual meeting yesterday, Murray said he looks on Tuesday's results as a vital first step in the Democrats' campaign to win control of Congress next year.

Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said on an NBC radio program last night that if the Republicans were going to have a dip in popularity let's have it now and not "next year." All House seats and one-third of the Senate are to be filled then.

He said the Republicans had been busy reducing personnel, cutting expenditures and doing other things that weren't dramatic and didn't have political "it."

Hall promised the administration will advance an "affirmative program" in the session of Congress beginning in January, mentioning a reduction in taxes and a new farm program.

Trouble in California

He told his radio interviewers last night 'we are in trouble' in next Tuesday's special California congressional election. He said two Democrats are running against two Republicans but one Democrat is not making much of a campaign.

This could split the GOP vote and boost the Democrats' chances to make it eight straight House election victories this year.

Eisenhower, questioned about last week's White House statement that he was endorsing all Republican candidates, qualified this somewhat for the future by saying that these candidates must have clean records of honesty and integrity. He said it was conceivable that these conditions might not be met in all cases.

Group Told of Court Actions by Policemen

A motion picture on "A Day In Court" was shown members of the Marion Auxiliary Police and Rescue Teams of the State Defense Corps at a meeting last night at City Hall.

The movie, shown by state highway patrolmen, illustrated various problems faced by law enforcement officers in testifying in court.

Marion Police Chief Tom Coon told the group that each of the 24 members is now covered by State Industrial Commission Insurance. This provides for compensation to any auxiliary police or rescue team member who may be injured in performing his duties.

Coon also informed the group that auxiliary police badges will be presented to them about Dec. 1. The auxiliary police team, composed of 14 members, is captained by Charles Knachel of 222 S. Grand Ave. and captain of the rescue team of 10 members is William Luse of 642 Cherry St.

Two Suspects In Baby Sitter Case Released

LACROSSE, Wis. (AP)—The stories of two men picked up in Illinois cities after both claimed they knew something about the disappearance of Evelyn Hartley were dismissed by police yesterday as "liquor talk."

Dist. Atty. John Bosshard said the men's boasts were "washed out" in questioning and investigation of their whereabouts during and after the abduction of the 15-year-old baby sitter.

Bosshard and other officials talked with Elder G. Frisled, 26, at Galena, Ill., and John Robert Jeffrey, 24, who said he is a hitchhiker from Texas, in Ottawa, Ill.

Neither will be held further in connection with the Hartley case, Bosshard said.

Miss Hartley has been missing since Oct. 24.

Cat Poor on Mice but Is Splendid Fire Warden

DURANGO, Colo. (AP) — Roy Boughman's cat won't catch mice, but he makes a splendid fire warden.

Puss pawed and purred until he got Boughman out of bed at midnight. Boughman arose, thinking the cat wanted out for a nocturnal stroll.

On his way back from the door, Boughman found the kitchen filled with smoke. He noticed it in time to put out a fire in the wall before serious damage resulted.

Mice apparently started the blaze by chewing on kitchen matches—the same mice the cat steadfastly refuses to chase.

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The FBI said today 28 civilian employes had been accused of "share-the-wealth" thefts of $7,803 worth of government property from the U. S. Army Depot at Schenectady and subdepot at Voorheesville.

Twenty-seven were arrested today, the FBI said, but the 28th was not taken into custody because he is confined to a hospital in Schenectady. He will be arrested later, the FBI added.

All 28 were accused of theft of U. S. government property.

Editors Differ Widely Over Play on News

CHICAGO (AP) — Like many people who read their newspapers, America's editors have widely varying opinions on handling the news.

This was demonstrated yesterday when news executives attending the annual meeting of The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. discussed news coverage of Sen. Joseph McCarthy's activities and the Kinsey report on "Sexual Behavior of the Human Female."

The evaluation of the Kinsey report ranged from Page 1 news story to a publicity plant not worth newspaper space.

McCarthy was described as a 'cheap demagogue' by one editor, while another said the Wisconsin Republican has made significant revelations which all newspapers have not fully treated.

Sam H. Day, of the New York Journal American, said his newspaper played the Kinsey report on Page 1 to give the public the news. He said the reaction to readers was evenly divided.

Ed Dooley, of the Denver Post, said he regarded the Kinsey report as legitimate news for his readers although "I don't think Dr. Kinsey's was a scientific job."

He said the book was more dangerous to the public morals than "Tobacco Road."

But some editors didn't print news stories on the report while others said they carried only brief stories on inside pages without complaints from their readers.

That no such basis exists now has been fully demonstrated by the exchange of notes over Germany. The latest Russian note attacked the whole Western defense system and the EDC particularly. Under EDC West Germany would be rearmed.

The position of the United States, Britain and France is that Russia should agree to unification of Germany without killing EDC because they argue, the defense organization would strengthen European stability and peace.

Army Announces New Europe Policy

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — The U. S. Army in Europe announced today a new policy whereby more troops stationed in Germany may have their families join them.

At present many are unable to send for their families because of a shortage of government housing in Germany. The Army's European headquarters here said families of qualified personnel can now be brought over at government expense to live in German tourist-type accommodations until government quarters are available.

"This action, which will be welcomed by many military personnel who face extensive periods of separation from their families is intended to alleviate the adverse morale effects of the present shortage of dependent housing," the announcement said.

Rioting Students Clash With Police in Trieste

TRIESTE (AP)—Scores of Italian student demonstrators and police were injured today in clashes that broke out between them in central streets of this disputed city.

Anti-riot police, motorized and specially equipped for the first time with tear gas bombs, used their clubs.

The students — demonstrating for the second consecutive day—hurled bricks.

At one point, police went after students who had sought refuge in the Church of Saint Anthony, in downtown Trieste, beating them and driving them out of the church and causing panic among persons praying there.

Reports said many were injured, including police and students, and taken to hospitals for treatment.

Police took several of the ringleaders into custody.

Hunt Demands Democrats Be Allowed Voice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hunt (D—Wyo) suggested today Democrats should demand the right to name vice chairmen on at least some key Senate committees when Congress meets in January.

He said Senate Democrats, who now outnumber the Republicans by one, "have no desire to take over the committees" or the chairmanships. But, he added in an interview, he believes they are entitled to a greater voice in Senate affairs than apparently has been contemplated.

Committee chairmanships, awarded primarily on the basis of seniority, are coveted positions. They carry with them some patronage, and an influence over the course of legislation. Committees do not now have vice chairmen. In the absence of the chairman, the next senior Republican normally presides.

Democrats moved into a numerical edge with the death of Sen. Robert A. Taft (R—Ohio) and the appointment of Thomas A. Burke, a Democrat, to succeed him. There are now 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans and Independent Sen. Morse of Oregon.

Morse has said if the Democrats forced a showdown, he would vote with the GOP on organizing the Senate.

Local Plant Officials Study Tooling Changes

Discussion of tooling changes for 1954 production were discussed at a meeting of officials of Universal Cooler Division of Tecumseh Steel Products and Harrison Radiator and Pontiac Divisions of General Motors Co. held Wednesday at Hotel Harding.

Spokesmen for Universal Cooler Division said the discussion centered mainly on the problems connected with tooling changes necessary for production of air conditioning units for 1954 General Motors models.

Both the Harrison Radiator and Pontiac Divisions of General Motors groups were from the engineering departments of those firms, the spokesman for the local firm said. He declined to list names of officials attending the meeting.

Edison PTA Members Hear School Officials

Joe Whisler, director of pupil personnel of the city schools, and Harold Edwards, director of instruction of the city schools, explained their duties in talks to members of the Edison PTA at a recent meeting.

James Frew, school principal, introduced the speaker and invited the parents to visit the home rooms. Mrs. Virginia Wahlbauer, music teacher at Edison, sang several selections accompanied by Mrs. George Lane on the piano.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. William Dudley, president, and the pledge to the flag was given by Pat Kelleher of Scout troop 2. Rev Norman R. Rena of Fite Memorial Baptist Church gave devotions. The PTA will hold a chili supper Nov. 12.

These Days

By George Sokolsky

I came across a questionnaire given to parents in Rahway, New Jersey, for them to fill out so that the school might more intelligently plan its course of study. I generally throw such questionnaires away because the school cannot need to know how often I bathe before they can decide whether to teach my child algebra or Latin or maybe how to play the electric guitar.

SOKOLSKY

They want to know whether the family owns a radio or television or does the child have a room to itself for study.

They do not ask whether the child tries to accumulate information while the radio blares forth the many parodies on "Dragnet," or while "The Shadow" scares the daylights out of adults. The children seem never to be frightened by anything over the radio.

I HAVE NEVER been able to understand how the children can remember what they study to the accompaniment of the radio, but it has been explained to me by my infants that times have changed and that I am very old. That is why I cannot read Suetonius while listening to "Gangbusters."

So the questionnaire goes on to ask the parent what language he speaks besides English, which may be important if the school really wants to teach English as a beautiful language, capable of precise expression. In that respect, times have, indeed, changed.

My own experience is that I came from a multi-lingual home in which English was a second language, rarely spoken by the adults, but somehow most of us managed to get good marks in English while not altogether forgetting other tongues.

Then we go down to this question: "Do you study to improve your present income?" Maybe this is designed to discover whether the child has a nervous parent.

PERHAPS ONE DAY a Ph.D will do a research on which months of the year produce the most nervous parents. Probably March will show up as the worst month and March 15 as the very worst day of the very worst month.

I know that I get the jitters along the beginning of March. It is during March that it is dangerous for my children to ask me whether it is true that Toscanini likes Jazz and whether Stalin was shorter than Tom Dewey.

Perhaps another reason for this question is to determine whether the parent is one of those old-fashioned Americans who suffers from the ancient ambition of trying to improve his lot by hard work.

-:-

SUCH PARENTS are behind the times. The modern man takes seniority as a guiding rule and hopes that if anything goes wrong, the government will come to his rescue with a subsidy.

Also, there are pensions. Why push out of line and embarrass the neighbors?

One of the most astonishing questions asked of these Rahway parents is "How many bathrooms in your home?"

They do not ask whether they are used often. Nor do they ask whether the bath towels match the tiles or is there a two-tone effect.

Why would they want to know about the bathrooms? And how can it assist in formulating a course of study for the child, unless he is to become a tenor who sings in his bath. Or maybe whoever drew up the questionnaire is of an ancient vintage, remembering that the old outhouse was a sort of library in which the Sears Roebuck catalogue was kept to improve one's English.

Today, youth prefers Kinsey's report on how wicked the parents are, most of whom, particularly the mothers, ought to be in jail anyhow.

-:-

I AM TERRIBLY puzzled by that bathroom question because I cannot discover its relationship to home economics. But a guide to it is the very last question, No. 25, which wants to know whether you own an automobile, what year, and how many.

The purpose of all these questions is to "provide the best educational program for your children." But what has the year of your car to do with that?

Suppose you own a model T Ford, does that mean that the child is a dope? Johann Sebastian Bach's father never even heard of an automobile; yet, Johann did not badly at all.

I never knew why questionnaires are answered. They are probably issued because those who get them up had some time on an off day.

Hamilton Woman's Suit Includes Three Pages of Charges

HAMILTON, Ohio, (AP)—It took three typewritten pages to list the troubles Mrs. Florence H. Woolford says she has been having with her neighbor, Mrs. Ada Krebs.

The list of woes was contained in Mrs. Woolford's suit for $35,000 damages filed yesterday in Butler County Common Pleas Court against Mrs Krebs. It included:

Pouring hot grease on her rose and lilac bushes; pushing the nozzle of a hose in the ground so that the flow of water damaged the foundation of her home; pushing a burning tub so close to a trellis it scorched the roses; cutting cushions of a glider; trampling down a fence; smearing crayon marks on a newly painted garage; cutting down flowers and rose bushes.

Sgt. Ronald M. Weaver left Tuesday for Camp Atterbury, Ind., for reassignment to duty, after spending a 30-day furlough with his mother, Mrs. Ernest Weaver of 578 Darius St. He returned recently from Fort Richardson, Alaska, where he has been stationed for the last four years with the 51st Ordnance Depot Supply Co.

Censorship of Prese Is Lifted in Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla has told delegates of the National Newspapermen's Congress which winds up a session here today that Colombia's press censorship will remain suspended until the government draws up a new press law.

Censorship was lifted by the President during the newspapermen's congress. It will continue to be suspended, he said yesterday, except when a publication endangers peace.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Dr. Kinsey now has some competition in the business of exploring feminine foibles. Researchers from labor political leagues have analyzed the voting habits of the American female and have discovered that the hand which once meraly rocked the cradle now is swinging local and national elections.

RIESEL

The labor strategists, who this week, ran through a rehearsal for next year's country-wide congressional campaign, know they must win over millions of women in 1954 before they can win the Congress for the Democrats.

Millions of these women are union members—3,500,000, in fact—and wives of union members. The belief is most of them voted Republican last year.

Labor's researchers and political organizers, including an attractive lady from California named Esther Murray, now realize that they lost their own "working class" wives to General Eisenhower last time, and so lost the vast prestige they had in the White House for 20 years.

-:-

ESTHER MURRAY, who has been a sort of roving India Edwards for the CIO Political Action Committee, has discovered that, "There is no speech on record given by Gen. Eisenhower that does not have some place in it a specific appeal to women. . ."

Analysis of the Eisenhower vote by experts reveals that more than half the total vote for Ike was cast by women, and that 4,000,000 of his 5,000,000 vote majority were thrown him by women.

The distaff side has had its say in local elections, too. In New York, angered by dirty streets, criminal violence and unlit avenues and a creaking school system, the women came out in droves to vote in an otherwise very quiet primary day balloting. They cast the majority of votes. It was unheard of.

Result of the Republican awareness of this feminine influence has been the unprecedented number of appointments of women by President Eisenhower.

-:-

HE NAMED one to his cabinet, two as ambassadors, several to vital international posts and 20 others to high Washington jobs.

Now the labor leagues' strategists are trying to cut in on the ladies' votes. To win, they must do this within a year.

There are at least 1,500,000 more women eligible to vote than there are men. And there are 19,000,000 working women, who make up a third of the labor force—and therefore are considered a terrific political objective.

Furthermore, the 3,000,000 women who are union members (ranging all the way from steelworkers to opera stars; make up about 16 per cent of the total union membership. They can be reached easily since they are, for the most part, concentrated in the big city centers.

In fact, there are more women than male voters in every major industrial center in America.

-:-

BUT REACHING them and convincing them is not automatically the same. The lady may prove stubborn.

First, she has been ignored until recently by labor's political strategists There are no women on the high command boards of the AFL and CIO.

There is only one important female vice-president in all of the 175 major national and international unions of the U.S. She's Gladys Dickason, vice-president of the CIO's Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union.

Even if there were more women in high labor places, they might have had little influence on working women and "working class" wives.

The CIO has found most ladies "are conservative by tarmperament and when women vote, the natural tendency is to support the status quo."

-:-

DURING THIS PAST national campaign, the CIO's Esther Murray telephoned scores of CIO members' wives on a Saturday morning. Mrs. Murray congratulated them for registering to vote. She told them that the CIO recommended Adlai Stevenson. But Mrs. Murray reported not so long ago, "Over and over I got back: 'Stevenson? Yes, I know my husband likes Stephenson, but I like Ike.'

"And one woman said to me: 'Stevenson? Who is Stevenson? Is he the other candidate for president?'

"This was a CIO wife."

-:-

MRS. MURRAY concludes, "There is no other body of people organized in America with sufficient leadership and sufficient financing" to go after the women.

"Only the CIO has the peculiar organization and mechanism to do this job. The Democratic party doesn't have it. . . The AFL doesn't have the social program. Only CIO, organized in America today, has the money and the power and the instrumentality for public opinion. . . to do that job."

If they succeed, then the hand that rocked the cradle will indeed have-rocked national politics.

House Moderne

By Inez Robb

Modern home architecture is probably a fine thing—all glass and a mile wide if the household has no urge to throw stones and knows someone who can get a window - washer for him wholesale.

INEZ ROBB

But it is my hunch that mederne architecture is a sometime thing in the suburbs for the simple reason that it runs counter to human nature. And human nature is a stubborn thing.

There is a soupcon of the Collyer brothers in all of us. Man is by instinct and habit a pack rat. And any type of home architecture that doesn't include both a big attic and-or a full basement is here today and gone tomorrow before you can say Frank Lloyd Wright

-:-

THESE SO-CALLED "utility rooms" and storage walls in the new subdivisions are never going to take the place of a basement or an attic where man can squirrel away his treasures.

Maybe the treasures have been declared of no value as of now. But man has no intention of accepting this essay or being permanently parted from his goods and gear.

I have been pondering this grave architectural threat to the American way ever since the interior decorating fraternity began beating the drum recently for the revival of the brass bed, marble tops and overwrought iron furniture. Home today is a heap without a brass bed, a marble top or a wrought iron gimmick

To walk into a store cold and buy any of these items in house furnishings is to court bankrupcy. That's doing it the hard way.

THE LUCKY ONES who never had it so good are the householders in whose attics grandma stored the brass bed, the marble-topped table and the wrought iron fern stand when fashions changed in favor of fumed oak and mission furniture.

All such householders have to do is retire to the attic, peel away the strata of old golf clubs, tiffany glass lamps, halloween costumes and reed tea-carts to retrieve the gems that will transform their houses into homes of distinction.

I feel confident that if I could but get out to the Boise Valley and into certain attics in which I have rooting rights, I could come away with enough brass, iron and marble to turn my New York apartment into a combination mongery and monument works.

-:-

THE IRON and the marble had already been toted up to the attic by the time I was born, but the brass beds lingered on long enough for me to have spent many a rebellious Saturday morning applying polish and elbow grease to 'em. O, happy day when the brass was carted up to the attic and the fumed oak appeared.

Mother's little helper, circa '53, need not cringe if a brass bed shows up at home today. They put lacquer on 'em now, and they're good for the duration.

Today's moderne furniture, compounded of equal parts of barbed wire, plastic and baling cord, will probably reach the scrap heap in another five to eight years. There will be no place to store it in the moderne home. And more's the pity, for around 2010 B.C., some slap-happy decorator will revive it for decorative accents, conservation pieces or for laughs.

-:-

IN THAT distant day, there will be no attics to yield their quaint treasures, and the Joneses will be forced to rob the piggy bank to keep up with themselves.

Out of American attics in the past have seeped the Duncan Phyfe sofas, the Paul Revere mugs and the Button Gwinnett signatures that have staved off more than one sheriff as he galloped up to the old homestead to foreclose the mortgage. American museums are filled with one-time attic discards.

But that day is gone forever unless modern architects can be persuaded to take a hitch in their blueprints.

Policeman Tags Parking Violator by Same Name

BOSTON (AP)—Patrolman Thomas F. Kennedy looked up eagerly in Municipal Court yesterday when the name of a parking law violator was called.

The defendant was Thomas F. Kennedy of Brookline who paid a $1 fine for an overtime parking tag issued by Patrolman Kennedy, no relation.

"I'd been wondering what you looked like," Patrolman Kennedy commented. Citizen Kennedy, still smarting about the fine, smiled wanly and left the courthouse.

Poor Man's Atom Smasher

University of California Is Building Swindletron

By RENNIE TYLOR
Associated Press Science Reporter

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—A poor man's atom smasher, called a swindletron because it seems to get something for nothing, is being built at the University of California.

This relatively small instrument will produce a beam of atomic particles bearing charges of one million volts each, even though it uses only a half-million volt power source.

It is intended to do work now done by larger and more expensive apparatus, such as the Van De Graaff generator and the Cockroft-Walton voltage multiplier. They are much used in low energy atomic research.

A full-sized 4-million volt swindletron can be built for $10,000 to $50,000 while the other machines of that caliber cost $100,000 to $200,000, said Dr. John R. Woodyard. The one-million volt pilot model is being built under his supervision.

The new machine was conceived by Dr. Luis W. Alvarez, professor of physics, who learned later that the same idea had been developed in 1936 by Dr. Willard Bennett of the Naval Research Laboratory, Washington, D. C. Dr. Bennett patented the idea.

The pilot model consists mainly of a tube 6 feet long with a few gadgets surrounding it.

It uses hydrogen atoms for ammunition. A hydrogen atom is composed of a positively charged nucleus, called a proton, and a single negatively charged electron. This makes the normal atom electrically neutral.

At the starting end of the tube the electron is burned off the atom with heat. The resulting positively charged proton is started through the tube with a modest 30,000-volt jolt of electricity.

First the proton passes through a very thin sheet of aluminum, from which it picks up two negative electrons and thus becomes negatively charged.

Further down the tube is a second sheet of aluminum bearing a half-million volt positive charge. The negative particle is attracted to this positive surface with a half-million volt burst of speed.

As it goes through the second aluminum sheet it is robbed of its two electrons and becomes positive again. Because the second aluminum sheet and the particle now are both positive, the particle is repelled. Already traveling at a half-million volt clip, it picks up another half-million volts of energy because of the repulsion. Then it bangs into a target at the tube outlet with a total energy of a million volts.

Technically called a charge exchange accelerator, the new gadget already has shown its builders some new things about electrical circuits and has pointed the way toward new uses for plastics in electrical insulation, Dr. Woodyard said.

Jury Will Hear Woman's Story Of Son's Death

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Defense attorneys today planned to have Mrs. Elizabeth Rhodeback tell from the witness stand what she knows about the death of her 5-year-old son, Byron.

Mrs. Rhodeback is on trial for second degree murder. Her son died Aug. 7, and the heavily-set mother told authorities at the time he had been killed by a bull.

Yesterday Sheriff Dudley Crider and his wife, who is matron at the county jail, testified about an interview with Mrs. Rhodeback after her arrest.

They quoted Mrs. Rhodeback as saying:

"I got up that morning and didn't feel well and started to prepare the children's breakfast. Byron wouldn't eat his. That made me mad. I slapped him. He spit on me and kicked me in the stomach. I picked up a stick and don't remember anything until I wiped blood off Byron's face."

She is the mother of five children, and her husband, Marion, testified yesterday she thought more of the younger children than she did of the others.

He testified she threw a rolling pin at the two older children on several occasions.

DIES IN LAKEWOOD

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Donald Lybarger, 50, wife of Common Pleas Judge Donald F. Lybarger, died yesterday afternoon in Lakewood Hospital.

Findings of $5,727 On Seneca Sheriff, Wife Are Returned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An audit of the Seneca County sheriff's office resulted today in findings of $5,727 against Sheriff John W. Hysard and $1,472 against his wife as jail matron and deputy sheriff.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported results of the audit covering the sheriff's first term from Jan. 1, 1949, to Dec. 31, 1952, and the first four months of his second term this year.

The finding against the sheriff included $5,557 for profit on boarding prisoners, $139 for excess and illegal mileage charged on a trip to Arizona to extradite a prisoner and $30 for rewards not turned over to the county. The rewards were for twice apprehending an AWOL soldier.

The finding against Mrs. Hysard, the report said, was in connection with money received for doing county jail washing while drawing pay as jail matron and deputy sheriff.

Two Fraternity Houses Will Be Burned in Test

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Two fraternity houses will be burned down at the University of Maryland Sunday—for the sake of science.

Robert C. Byrus, director of the university's fire extension service, said they'll go up in smoke to get "factual information on how fire spreads through a building."

Firemen from throughout the state have been invited to watch the burning Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon houses, whose occupants have moved to new quarters.

KILLS PLAYMATE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police say Donald Renner, 14, accidentally shot and killed his 6-year-old playmate, Ronnie Sayre, yesterday when a shotgun he had just loaded discharged.

Defeat of Income Tax Puts Canton in Squeeze

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Defeat of a city income tax proposal in Tuesday's election has put the squeeze on this city's finances.

Mayor Carl F. Wise, re-elected Republican, saw a half million dollar deficit. He said personnel and services would have to undergo drastic cuts.

Wise had endorsed a ½ per cent city income tax which lost this week just as a similar one per cent city income tax was given a sound trouncing a year ago.

Curbstone Plato Looks at Politicians

NEW YORK (AP)—A curbstone Plato on politics and politicians:

Millions of American mothers secretly yearn to have a son grow up to be president, but what mother ever raised her boy to be a politician?

"Politicians . . . are but the cigar-smoke of a man," wrote Henry David Thoreau, and Will Rogers put the same thought into the native tongue when he said, "I will tell you, folks, all politics is apple sauce."

Actually, politics is the true American national pastime, yet in no other country, except perhaps France, is the politician more distrusted. Why? This land has created some of the greatest figures in the history of politics.

But if a man today wants to find out the real defects in his character, the quickest and easiest way is to run for public office. He'll learn more about what's wrong with him in a five-week campaign than a psychiatrist could discover in a year of carefully couched questions.

"Man is a political animal," said Aristotle. Any man who says "I'm not interested in politics" can be written off as a simpleton who isn't interested in living, either. For all living is politics.

There is much politics in love, but the first lesson a politician learns is there is little love in politics.

A fellow who goes into politics because he feels it is his natural bent just hasn't discovered the difference between being bent and broke. Few lifelong politicians die rich. Even Thomas Jefferson, America's greatest political philosopher, lived his last few years largely on the cuff, supported by friends.

"Politics is perhaps the only profession for which no preparation is thought necessary," wrote Robert Louis Stevenson. But that was before candidates had to learn the art of television makeup.

A man's physiognomy as well as his public record are on trial when he seeks office. The most devastating quip on Calvin Coolidge was the line, "He looks as if he had been weaned on a pickle."

His past phrases also are brought up to haunt the man in public life, such as Herbert Hoover's inaugural address:

"In no nation are the fruits of accomplishment more secure. . . . I have no fears for the future of our country. It is bright with hope."

Later that year came an event still known as "the depression." In the years since then Hoover has probably wished many times that when he was sworn into office he merely had responded by saying, "Thanks."

A politician who runs for the White House and wins has one thing in common with a guy who runs for dog catcher and loses. They are equally lonely.

Since politics is so lonely, thankless and poorly paid a profession, why does anybody enter it?

Well, every politician hopes he can in time become a statesman.

A statesman is a politician so eminent that even his oldest friend would hesitate to task his help in getting a traffic ticket fixed.

Woman Who Killed Her Husband Gets Half His Insurance

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A woman convicted of fatally shooting her husband has been awarded half the proceds of his life insurance policies, exceeding $25,000.

Superior Judge Ernest A. Tolin made the award yesterday. He held that because the policies existed before Dr. Telford Moore's death, they must be considered community property.

The other half will go to the couple's son, Telford I. Moore Jr., and to a daughter of Mrs. Patricia Moore by a previous marriage, Antenie Jane Thomas.

Mrs. Moore pleaded self defense, was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to one to 10 years in prison. She has appealed and is at liberty under $10,000 bail.

Cheboygan Has Free Parking During Winter

CHEBOYGAN, Mich. (AP)—Put this city along the Straits of Mackinac down as likely having the nation's strangest harbinger of winter. It is the disappearance of parking meters.

City Council has ordered them picked up Nov. 10 and stored until spring. Icy winds whipping between Lakes Michigan and Huron chill the oil and they don't work properly in winter.

Couple in Massachusetts Has Third Set of Twins

EVERETT, Mass. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs Ralph S. Trufant Jr., both 30, are the parents of a third successive set of twins.

Twin girls were born to Mrs. Trufant at Whidden Memorial Hospital yesterday.

Their first set, both girls, was born in 1947. The second, both boys, was born in 1951.

Appearing in Wednesday night's cast were: Gary Caldwell, Eileen Corfman, Theora Disher, Mountie Dyer, James Gilliland, Donna Goodman, Marvin Heinlen, Janet Kellogg, Anna Scott, Glenn Spiegel, Carol Stover and Edward Whitmeyer.

Friday night's play will feature Doris Arel, Curtis Bell, Juanita Best, Gloria Kinsley, Theora Disher, Mountie Dyer, Donna Goodman, Martin Hoover, Janet Kellogg, Jane Monroe, Ann Scott, Carol Stover, Beth Traxler, Nancy Tschantz, Edward Whitmeyer and Arthur Williams. James Gilliland is business manager; Eileen Corfman and Mountie Dyer, property managers. Milton Motter, stage manager; Gloria Kinsley, publicity manager; Juanita Best, house manager.

Both plays are directed by Bruce C. Martin.

Deer Fights Auto, Does $500 Worth of Damage

MORGANTOWN, W Va. (AP)—Paul Gregg, 42-year-old coal miner, said yesterday he was driving to work in his new car in the Cheat Mountain section and met a deer.

Said Gregg: "The deer lowered his head and charged the front of my car. He backed off and charged again. Then he strolled off into the woods.

"Cost me $500 to fix that car."

Oil Well Sunk At Movie Studio In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A glamorized oil well is being drilled on the lot on 20th Century-Fox's movie studio.

Its steel skeleton is costumed in glass cloth stuffed with a 1½-inch blanket of fibre glass to muffle its sound. This fireproof covering has been painted a blue gray to blend with the sky. Electric motors, quieter than more commonly used diesel or gasoline engines, turn the rotary drill.

Actor Rory Calhoun threw a lever that spudded in the well yesterday. Marilyn Monroe had been recruited for the chore, but tin-hatted workmen vetoed her approach. Seems there's an old oil field superstition against women on drill rigs. Bad luck.

Spokesmen said the studio will get slightly less than 10 per cent of any profits from the oil venture.

C. G. (Tommy) Williams, vice-president of Universal Consolidated Oil Co., which has leased the ground, said 13 holes are planned if the test well is successful. All will be drilled with the one derrick.

After the drilling is completed, the 136-foot derrick will be taken down. Underground electric pumps and buried pipes will carry the oil to refineries 20 miles away.

Four million barrels of oil were produced from 34 comparatively shallow wells in the area back in the 30s. Some dried up and movie-making and real estate took precedence although, two of the old wells are still pumping nearby. A well drilled below 5,000 feet in 1925 indicated rich petroleum deposits at such depths. The well failed mechanically and never produced.

Betatron Being Installed At University of Texas

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The University of Texas Hospital for Cancer Research here is installing a 10-ton, 22-million-volt betatron.

The mammoth X-ray research weapon is housed in a vault with six-foot thick walls and augments the hospital's three-million-volt cobalt-60.

Combined the two machines are $150,000 worth of hope that some new inroad can be made against cancer.

Economy Strikes Sour Note at Selfridge Field

MT. CLEMENS, Mich. (AP)—So far as Selfridge Air Force Base is concerned, the Defense Department has tooted a very sour note on its economy calliope.

The 10th Air Force Band, founded six years ago, has been ordered disbanded Nov. 18 to save money.

Election Technicalities Are Ignored in Clifton

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The voters of the Village of Clifton—population 220—don't go in much for technicalities.

Tuesday they sent four men into a dead heat for a village office that doesn't exist—the board of public affairs.

Then they elected the same man mayor and councilman. If he decides to be mayor it means a straw-drawing contest between two men who finished in a tie behind him in the Council voting.

What's more, The voters elected a military man to the Council. There is strong suspicion that a soldier on active duty may not hold public office in the village.

All votes were write-ins.

SAYS RUSSIA 'BLUFFS'

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—"Russia is in a mess," Eddy Gilmore, former Moscow bureau chief for The Associated Press, told 350 Timken Roller Bearing Co. guests here last night. He said many people in this country overestimate the strength of the Russians whom he described as "weak, bluffing and playing for time."

A dress rehearsal for the "Follies" was held last night following the last movie at the Palace Theater. It lasted until dawn.

Proceeds of the show will be used by the sponsors to finance the Guild's kindergarten, clothing center, community arts projects, teen-age roundtable group and to carry out other welfare work in the city and county.

Mrs. David Pollak, finance chairman, announced that although many tickets have been sold in advance, they may still be obtained for both performances at the theater box office. For those who can not purchase tickets or make reservations at the box office, the guild has set up a reservation and delivery service. Anyone desiring tickets may call Mrs. Jack Littlefield, 2-0059 or Mrs. Robert Vance, 2-7640 and place an order for tickets. These will be delivered by a guild member. Mrs. Glen Perry is chairman of the ticket committee and Mrs. James B. Walter is chairman of the show.

The contest for being named "Sultan of the Follies of 1953" has developed into a real race with Fred Nelson of the Moose holding his lead by a narrow margin and Francis Huber of the Rotary Club closing in fast. Figures in the voting are changing hourly and interest is mounting as closing time draws near. Final results will be announced at the Friday evening performance when the winner will receive a $50 defense bond for his sponsoring organization.

India Delegate Says Time Not Ripe for Talks

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Current cold winds in the international climate have convinced India's delegate V. K. Krishna Menon, the time is not ripe for his idea of a U. N. assembly for a top-level Big Four conference.

Menon told the Assembly last September he might propose a resolution in which the 60-nation organization would appeal to the chiefs of state of the United States, Russia, Britain and France to get together personally in an attempt to solve present world tensions.

Now, however, sources familiar with his views said today he has decided to wait for more favorable conditions.

The sources said he has no desire to push his suggestion in the face of the present U. S. opposition and the stand-off attitude of some other nations. The sources said Menon would prefer to be assured of unanimous passage of any such proposal in the Assembly.

Eden Sees No Sign Soviets Softening

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said today "it is hard to find any sign that the Soviet government has modified its fundamenal hostility to the Western nations."

"Their propaganda continues just as before," Eden told the House of Commons. "It is to be carried out through strikes, through the fomenting of anti-American feeling and exploiting colonial unrest.

"Nor is it encouraging to see what is happening behind the Iron Curtain. The policy of lighter control in Eastern Germany of which there was some evidence after the death of Stalin, has been abandoned and we now see a new period of oppression.

New Ohio Hospital Head Appointed by Lamneck

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Judge John H. Lamneck, state welfare director, today appointed Dr. Thomas A. McMahon superintendent of the Scioto Receiving Hospital which will be opened at Portsmouth within the next few weeks.

Dr. McMahon, 43, now is assistant superintendent of the Apple Creek State Hospital. The Portsmouth institution was built at a cost of $900,000 and has 140 beds. It will be the eighth receiving hospital of nine completed. The last is the Hamilton County Receiving Hospital now under construction at Cincinnati.

Racket-Smashing Youngstown Police Chief Is Out of Job

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Police Chief Edward J. Allen, brought here six years ago from Erie, Pa. by Mayor Charles P. Henderson to smash the rackets, is leaving with the defeated Republican mayor.

Mayor-elect Frank X. Kryzan, a 39-year-old attorney who edged Henderson by 1,496 votes out of more than 62,000 cast in the mayoral contest Tuesday, said he would pick a new chief from the department ranks.

Kryzan, a Democrat who had the backing of the CIO United Steelworkers, put Allen on notice yesterday with his statement. Allen said he wants to remain in the police field, but has no plans for the future. Both Allen and his father served on the Erie, Pa. police force.

Allen drove the rackets to cover in his six years here.

Woman Charged With Post Exchange Thefts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation yesterday said it had arrested an Ashville woman in connection with thefts of money and merchandise from the post exchange at Lockbourne Air Force Base.

The FBI identified the woman as 27-year-old Mrs. Elaine F. Bower, a sales clerk. Special Agent Harvey G. Foster said Mrs. Bower's arrest followed an investigation by the FBI and Air Force authorities.

Mrs. Bower was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Robert W. Newlon and ordered held on $1,000 bond for federal court action.

Hard-Hitting Fremont Ross Preps for Harding Tilt

Title of Buckeye League At Stake in Home Finale

Harding plays host to power-packed Fremont Ross tomorrow night with the Buckeye League title at stake. Both teams go into the fray with records of four wins without defeat in league action.

The Giants, shooting for an undefeated season will be heavy favorites to whip the Prexies who are rebounding from a 7-7 deadlock last week at Ashland.

Local fans will be looking at the speediest and best rounded team seen here this season. Running from a spread-T, with a little single-wing and some I formation plays, Coach Mal Mackey's defending league champs are capable of striking from any part of the gridiron.

Breakaway Runners

Proof of this can be seen in a look at the Ross record. With 44 touchdowns scored this season the Giants have hit paydirt 24 times from more than 30 yards out. Lester Franks, the team's top scorer, has scored on a three yard plunge and once from the 13. The rest have come on longer gallops including one of 31, one of 41 one of 44 and two of 62 yards. Ron Whitcomb, another halfback, has scored from 54, 65 and 31 yards out while the fullback Charles Black, has runs of 50, 61, 46 and 26 yards to his credit. Haldon Black a defensive back, has the longest run from scrimmage a gallop of 83 yards. He also has gone 42.

In 287 running plays in their seven games, the Giants have rolled up 2 498 yards in 287 running plays. That rounds out to an average of 8 7 yards a carry. The total puts the present crew 383 yards ahead of the offensive pace set by the 1951 Ross team which boasted John Lewis and Jerome Surratt. Veteran Fremont grid fans are calling the present team the best yet at the school and are looking ahead to next week when the Giants meet Massillon.

Harding and Ross have whipped four common foes, all members of the Buckeye League. Both rolled Fostoria by identical 40-6 counts. Fremont has also rolled over Bowling Green 44-7 and Findlay 53-0. Bowling Green 44-7 and Tiffin Columbian 70 6. Harding's other league scores were 20 0 over Bowling Green, 21 6 over Tiffin and 27-0 over Findlay. In addition to its league tilts the Fremont machine has routed by Lorain 25 0, Cleveland West Tech 32-7 and Sandusky, Harding's opponent next week 19-7. The team has allowed its opponents only 33 points while scoring 283. Harding holds a 135-40 edge over its foes.

Line Averages 171

Mackey will throw an offensive line averaging 171 at the Prexies while his backfield will average 185 pounds. The Harding players will be giving away weight at all positions.

The Fremont lineup will include Henry Tiller, 5-11 junior 160 pounds, and Frank Lenhart, 6-1 senior, 165, at the ends, Dick Harter, 205 6 2 senior and Tom Cooper, 5-11 senior 185 at tackles, Jim Polter, 5-9 senior, 165 and Bill Amor, 5-8 senior, 150 at the guards, and 6-1, 200-pound John Goodeman, a junior at center. Ted Houghtaling a 6-1 junior, 160 will be at quarterback while at the halves will be Lester Franks, a 175-pound 5-10 senior, and Ronald Whitcomb, 5 10 senior at 170. Charley Black 175-pound, 5-11 senior will be at fullback.

Defensively Tiller and Harter will hold down the ends on a five-man line with Lee Wolfe, 215 pounder, and Jerry Gallagher, 190 at tackles. John Jones a 320 pounder, fills the middle guard post. Linebackers will be Charles Black, his brother Haldon, a 169-pound sophomore, and Cooper Jim Tiller, 145-pounds, will be at safety.

Coach Pete Howison's charges will at full strength for the game and will be seeking to end Fremont's long reign as king of the Buckeye League. Last year, Fremont whipped the Prexies 26-13.

OSU Polishing Offensive for MSC Invasion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Woody Hayes coach of the Ohio State team which is a 10-point underdog to Michigan State snapped out this statement of defiance last night.

"Our kids have never played dead for anybody. We'll never quit. I don't know whether we'll win Saturday but I do know we will never give up."

He told a local Quarterback Club not to be scared by the report of Ohio Scout Gene Fekete who marveled over Michigan State's speed depth and defense.

Fekete pointed out that the Spartans are the best defensive team in the Big Ten. Only 31 points have been scored on them in four loop games.

He named Forest Hallmark a guard as one reason for Spartan defensive invulnerability. That lad is so fast on his charge Fekete said, he often wraps up the opposing quarterback before he can start his path along the line to handoff the ball to his backs.

The Buckeyes spent considerable time this week preparing their defense for Saturday's important game at Ohio Stadium. But they haven't been neglecting their offense.

The double-barrelled aerial threat of Johnny Bolton and Dave Leggett kept the passes flying during yesterday's drill. The two sharpshooting quarterbacks were on. They consistently hit their receivers in close and down field.

LEADING GROUND GAINER OF BIG 10. This is Paul Giel University of Minnesota's hard-running back who was listed as the leading ground gainer in the Big Ten, according to official statstics. In four games this season, he has picked up 602 yards, 375 of them by rushing, the other 227 by passing.

Steelers Shoot To Stop Brown Victory String

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's muscular Browns, jealously protecting the only undefeated record in pro football, take on the in-and-out Pittsburgh Steelers Sunday at Municipal Stadium.

Coach Paul Brown won't say this is his greatest Cleveland team but there is not much doubt he thinks it's a good one.

Brown, who keeps his eye firmly on the league championship, remarks only that "they haven't got it until they get it." But then he smiles — an extremely confident smile for such a complete pessimist.

The Browns trimmed Pittsburgh twice last season but by only a single point each time, 21-20 and 29 28.

Brown says his scouting reports show the Steelers are completely unpredictable' and that there is no telling when they will be either very good or very bad.

College at Wilmington To Dedicate New Field

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Townsend Memorial Field, built in honor of the late H O Townsend, Ohio's first high school athletic commissioner will, be dedicated at Wilmington College Saturday.

Dedication of the field will be conducted in connection with the Wilmington — Earlham football game.

Townsend who was graduated from Wilmington in 1909 was one of the leaders in the founding of the Ohio High School Athletic Association. He served as its commissioner until his death in 1944.

Statistics Show Drive by Illini Is Not a Fluke

CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois' drive towards the Big Ten football championship after being rated out of the race by pre-season dopesters has been anything but a fluke of official conference records show today.

The Illini, geared by the nation's No 1 ground gainer, J C Caroline, who has flashed 554 yards in three league games, lead the Big Ten in offense and are second on defense.

Illinois has averaged 392 7 yards per game, easily topping its two nearest rivals, Ohio State with 338 8 and Wisconsin with 338 3.

The Illini's total offense is broken down to an average of 330 7 rushing by far the best in the Big Ten, and only 62 passing. Top passing teams are Ohio State with a 150 5 average in four games and Michigan—Illinois Saturday opponent—with 150 0 in three.

Defensively, Michigan State leads. The Spartans have stifled four league foes for an average gain of 181 5, including 136 3 rushing and 45 2 passing.

While Caroline leads the individual rushing records Minnesota Paul Giel heads him in total offense with 602 yards.

150 Attend Clinic

Members of the Mid Ohio Officials Association today reported nearly 150 persons attended the basketball clinic last night at the YMCA. Rules of the game were explained by two members of the group Bob Harmon and John Kuenzli.

A spokesman for the association said today the persons attending high schools in this area. Several women cage fans also attended, he added.

Pitch May Be Hit

Majors Change Balk Rule To Give Choice to Batters

NEW YORK (AP)—When the umpire yells "balk" next season the pitcher better not follow through. The batter might hit a home run. And it would count.

The balk rule change is for considerable revision yesterday as the baseball rules committee a three man group representing the majors and the minors ended its first writing session in more than two years.

Under the new rule a batter who hits a pitch on which a balk has been committed has the choice of taking the balk called on the pitcher or the result of his swing.

In the past the ball was dead as soon as the balk was called by the umpire. The runners could advance only one base and the batter had to resume his place at the plate. In case the pitch is wild after a balk is called runners may advance as much as they can safely. On a fourth ball the batter can take the base on balls.

Four other minor changes were recorded as the committee finished its three day meeting at the office of Commissioner Ford Frick.

An umpire now may use his judgement on how far base runners can advance after an overthrow has been interfered with by fans leaning over the box seat railings. Previously the advancement was set by ground rules as well as baseball rules.

Too Green, Says Manager

Andrews Whips Davey, Not Ready for Graham

DETROIT (AP) — Newcomer Al Andrews is good enough to beat Chuck Davey twice but his manager doesn't think he's good enough to beat Billy Graham once. Not now, anyway.

Ike Bernstein, 76-year-old sage of the ring, said this today after Andrews had beaten Davey for the second time.

"I don't think my boy "is ready for Graham" Bernstein said "He's too green. Graham is a veteran He's too smart."

Andrews, a promising welterweight from Superior, Wis., scored a split decision over the fading Davey in a close 10-rounder at Olympic Stadium last night That, it was generally understood, earned him a Dec 2 shot at Graham, the veteran New York craftsman.

But now it looks as though the fight won't come off at all.

Andrews injured his right hand in the first round and Bernstein, who got out of a sick bed to attend the fight, said

"We'll have to see how his hand comes along"

And what about Davey? Is he through?

"No," says trainer Issy Kline "He'll fight again."

But Davey . . . he's not too sure It was his third loss in his last five starts He also had lost to Andrews in a 10-rounder last September.

"Don't ask be about that now," he said frankly. "I never make quick decisions I thought I fought fairly well but not as well as I expected When you lose—well, that could change things."

Writers covering the fight also thought Davey fought well In fact, a ringside poll showed 11 writers favored Davey and only one Andrews The AP called it even

But the ones who decide such matters—the officials—gave it to Andrews by a 2-1 margin. The two judges—Bill Appleton and Joe Lenahan—voted for the 23-year-old ex-soldier boy. Appleton had it 52-48 and Lenahan 51-49.

Referee Morrie Sherman gave it to Davey, 51-49.

Davey weighed 149½, Andrews 151.

Giel, Lattner Reaching for Added Honors

NEW YORK (AP)—Halfbacks Paul Giel of Minnesota and Johnny Lattner of Notre Dame appear to be strong bets to repeat as football All-Americas this year but they've got plenty of competition among the crop of backfield candidates.

According to progress reports from Associated Press regional All-America boards Giel and Lattner so far rate tops on their impressive all-around abilities in the first year of the return to limited substitutions Lattner, who is just one of several excellent runners in the nation's leading backfield, adds his exceptional talents as a blocker, pass receiver, tackler and pass defender to achieve a kingpin status at Notre Dame. Giel needs no introduction after his nationwide television debut last week against Pitt Both were named to the All-America team in '52.

Among the other halfbacks Illinois' sophomore speedster, J C Caroline, as been singled out as another Midwesterner who can't be overlooked. Caroline, teamed with Mickey Bates, has given the surprising Illini one of the most dangerous ground attacks in the country.

UCLA fullback Paul Cameron continues to draw commendations from Far West experts Sports Editor Paul Zimmerman of the Los Angeles Times class Cameron "the best back in the Pacific Coast conference." Cameron's wingback mate Bill Stits, is another nominee along with Washington State's Wayne Berry.

Veryl (Joe) Switzer, Kansas State Negro, is the name heard the length and breadth of the Central Plains region with Oklahoma's Larry Grigg also in contention Harding is given little chance to dump visiting Fremont tomorrow night by The Star's guessing gang while St. Mary is an even bet to whip Mansfield Madison Saturday night.

Only one panelist picked the Prexies to win the Buckeye League title clash. That was our guest, Walter 'Dunk' Miller, a partner in the Markert and Lewis store here. Dunk takes both local teams and Ohio State to nip the powerful Michigan State Spartans.

The regular panelists are trying to shake off a rough week on the local scene last week. The entire group took Harding over Ashland and St. Mary to whip Carey but neither panned out.

Fourteen games are on the area list this week They include the two local battles while others will have Upper Sandusky at Galion, Crestline at Bucyrus, Bluffton at Carey, Marysville at Bellefontaine, Johnstown at Richwood, Fredericktown at Mt. Writer Selects Spartans Over OSU Gridders

By HAROLD CLASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—When Purdue, beaten four straight times, topples Michigan State, winner of 28 in a row, one week and the next week Dartmouth, with only 41 points in five consecutive defeats, blanks Yale the next Saturday you must agree with Bob Zuppke, venerable Illinois coach of the past, that a football is a leather container filled with crazy bounces.

The 14 bad bounces in the list of 49 decisions last Saturday resulted in a paltry average of 714 That brought the year's figures to 231 correct selections, 62 incorrect for .788.

This week's picks:

Notre Dame over Pennsylvania: What is there to say that already hasn't been said about the 1953 Notre Damers'

Michigan State over Ohio State: Michigan State's injuries have healed but not the memory of that 6-0 setback by Purdue two weeks ago. Ohio State's pass attack may cause the Spartans some trouble.

Stanford over Southern California: Stanford has the better of it in three of four games against common foes but what is more important is that Stanford has a potent air attack and the Southern Cal roof leaks.

Texas over Baylor: Baylor is unbeaten, Texas whipped three times and in the Southwest Conference that means that Baylor doesn't have a chance. The hardest part of Baylor's schedule starts Saturday.

Maryland over George Washington: Berrie Faloney will pilot Maryland to an easy triumph

Illinois over Michigan: The Illini's J. C Caroline is the country's leading ground gainer via the rushing route. He's so fast they call him "The Blur."

Georgia Tech over Clemson: The Georgia Engineers to trample over Clemson with scientific skill and exactness.

West Virginia over Virginia Tech: But the unbeaten Mountaineers will have to work for their victory.

Minnesota over Indiana: Even if Paul Giel's ankle is hurt

Joost Studies Team in Role As A's Skipper

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A couple of baseball men were doing some mental juggling today but for vastly different reasons.

Eddie Joost, who was just another shortstop up to 10 a.m. yesterday, was saying to himself. "Let's see now, there's me at shortstop, Gus Zernial in the outfield, Eddie Robinson at first and Bobby Shantz on the mound—"

And rotund, jovial, and tempoarily unemployed Jimmy Dykes was mumbling: "Now if I go to Baltimore, there are a couple of nice golf courses right outside town—"

Joost was being primarily concerned with his new job as playing manager of the Philadelphia Athletics—a job that was handed him yesterday at the same press conference that brought Dykes his walking papers.

It was a sort of surprise move but no one seemed too astounded but Dykes himself. He was informed of his sudden demise after making an appearance as a luncheon speaker at nearby Norristown

Dykes—who had managed the hapless Athletics since he took over from the club's first and only previous manager, Connie Mack, in late 1950—pointed out he had been in the A's office Tuesday.

"Nobody said anything to me," commented Jimmy. "Why didn't they tell me?"

Roy Mack, Connie's son and current executive vice president of the team said Dykes had done a "poor job with the 1953 Athletics and a change was necessary."

The 37-year-old Joost, idle much of the past season because of injuries stemming from relative old age, was rewarded for seven years of service with the A's since his purchase from Rochester in 1946.

Joost said yesterday he expects to don a uniform as a playing pilot next season

Joost's new one-year contract reportedly calls for a $30,000 yearly salary.

The Joost-Dykes shift was the latest in what promises to be a series of moves by the American League club. Last week, the A's general manager—Arthur Ehlers—left to take the same post with the new Baltimore Orioles He was followed by Dick Armstrong, who took the post of Baltimore publicity director.

Pre-Season Rabbit Expensive for Pair

MILFORD, Ohio (AP)—Justice of the Peace Homer H. Ernst hung a dead rabbit outside his office yesterday and attached a sign which read. "This rabbit cost $211 40."

The idea was to discourage hunters who might get itching trigger fingers and open the rabbit season ahead of time

Riley Johnson, 31, of Norwood and Paul Rush, 38, of Loveland were caught with the rabbit Justice Ernst confiscated State Game Protector Edgar Anstaett charged them with hunting out of season and Ernst fined each of them $100 plus $5 70 costs to make that $211 40 total.

Fastest 4 Goals Known

Toledo's Record Scoring Spree Defeats Barons 6-3

Special to The Star

TOLEDO—The lastest four goals ever scored in organized amateur hockey relieved the Marion Barons of a 3-1 lead and gave Toledo's Mercs their big boost toward a 6-3 victory here last night in a rough International Hockey League game.

With only 1,541 hometowners in the stands the Mercs caught fire, in the opening period, and ran up four goals in 52 seconds midway of the second period The effort eclipsed an IHL and American mark of 1 28 for four tallies set by the Mercs in 1949. The International record of 1:19 was set by Canada's New Westminster Royals of the old Pacific Coast League in 1948.

Toledo opened scoring with a tip-in by Roy Hammond at 3:01 of the first frame but Marion came back for a 2-1 edge on shots by Gordon Vejprava and Tony Poeta.

That was upped to 3-1 at 3 57 of the second period as the Barons continued to run circles around Toledo Then the roof fell in.

At 10 47 Dick Pontarollo whipped a shot past Goalie Lou Crowdis and almost before the Barons had time for a breath Jack Novak bounced one home, Pontarollo scored again, and Hammond got his second goal The spree ended at 11 39 but just for good measure Johnny Kovich made it 6-3 with a fast one through Crowdis' legs at 17 55 before the teams settled down to a scoreless last period.

The victory moved Toledo back into the IHL lead with Marion in sixth place. Pontarollo, with two goals and two assists, grabbed the league's scoring lead over Johnstown's Don Hall with a total of 20 points.

LaRue, Claridon Clash Friday For Double-M League Honors

LaRue and Claridon, perennial powers in the Double-M Six-Man Football League clash another fitting climax to loop play Friday night on the LaRue field.

Unbeaten LaRue, already assured of no worse than a tie for the league crown, needs a victory or a tie for its second outright title. Three other games Friday mark the end of league play.

The Indians, who shared the league crown with Claridon and Chesterville last season, bring a 6-0 record into the fray. Claridon with a lone league loss to Chesterville 51-20 and the only squad with a shot at the loop title, will go into the game as the underdog.

But last year in both teams' finale, the Claridon club outscored LaRue, unbeaten at the time, 50-42 to bring about the three-way tie for league honors. The two teams and Chesterville all had 5-1 mark

LaRue's record in league play includes victories over Waldo 35-10, Johnsville 31-16, Caledonia 70-20, Sparta 48-18, Marengo 52-6 and Chesterville 42-13. Claridon whipped Marengo 32-6, Waldo 26-8, Sparta 52-26, before dropping the game to Chesterville and then beat Caledonia 18-6 and Johnsville 14-12

Third - place Chesterville, 4-2, meets Johnsville, 3-3, in an effort to nail down third and possibly second place while other league games send Marengo, 1-5, to Waldo and Sparta, 1-5 to Caledonia. Both Marion County schools, 2-4 in league play

In last year's tilt with Claridon, LaRue held a 28-12 margin at the half and seemed on its way to a win when Claridon exploded with 24 tallies in the third period Eventually deadlocking the game at 42-all, Lonnie Earl snapped the tie with a long run in the waning moments of play.

Unbeaten Claridon stopped LaRue 28-20 in 1951 to clinch the Double-M title but in 1950 LaRue squeezed by Claridon 30-22 for the title Both squads went into the 1949 game with marless records, with Claridon coming out on top 18-12 for the crown. Claridon dropped LaRue in its opening game and went on to complete an undefeated season for the league title in 1948 while in 1947, first year the league was in operation. LaRue and Caledonia shared league honors when both fought to a tie while winning all their other league engagements.

Relax To Enjoy Children, Child Expert Warns

CHICAGO (UP) — Mrs. Frances Horwich, a teacher with 3,000,000 'pupils," says that too many parents take their responsibility so seriously they don't enjoy their children.

"What's worse," she added, "the children can't enjoy their parents."

Mrs. Horwich is the "Miss Frances" of the NBC-TV "Ding-Dong School" program for children of kindergarten age She has received so many requests on her formula for getting along with the small fry that she's writing a book on the subject, called "How to Have Fun With Your Children."

"Having fun with the children is a basic philosophy of living and family life," Miss Frances said.

"It's the main achievement in life. What else is there, if you're going to be a parent, besides enjoying children and helping the children enjoy you."

She urges parents to "relax—with good sense."

Mothers and fathers should, she said, look back to their own childhoods and remember those things which were happy or unhappy, to guide themselves in rearing the next generation.

Above all, parents must remember that children have all the feelings of grown people.

"Big people sometimes forget that about little people," she explained.

Miss Frances said, parents should take a middle course in teaching children to assume responsibility.

"If a child is told to pick up his blocks, it's a mistake to make him pick them all up alone. He soon grows discouraged and stops.

"But if the parent picks up all of them, the child learns he can shirk responsibility.

"The responsibility becomes fun, however, if he picks up half the blocks while the parent picks up the rest. Soon the responsibility becomes a habit and he picks them all up."

Co-author of the book is Reinald Werrenrath, producer and director of Miss Frances' show.

Miss Frances holds a doctor's degree in education and child development from Northwestern University. A native of Ottawa O., she is 45 and has been in the education field for 22 years.

Her husband, Harvey, is a lawyer and teaches social sciences. He recently returned from Korea where he was official Air Force historian. The Horwiches have no children.

Horwich was a little bowled over by the fame his wife achieved while he was away for two years.

I still can't believe all this has happened to Frances," he said "Just call me Mr. Frances."

Navy Reports Sun Also Affects Tide

WASHINGTON (UP)—The moon is usually cited as the cause of ocean tides, but there also are "sun tides."

Rear Adm. Leo O. Colbert, former chief of the U. S Coast and Geodetic Survey, explained this and other complicating factors in tide prediction in the latest annual report of the Smithsonian Institution.

If the earth were uniformly covered with water, Colbert said, tides could be predicted with fair accuracy by the position of the moon at any time

However, earth masses, the contour of the ocean, and the sun's attraction complicate the prediction of the basic pull of the moon Because of these factors Colbert divided the Atlantic into two basins for purposes of tide prediction

The larger basin extends across the North and South Atlantic, with the eastern coast of North America at one end and the Antarctic Ocean at the other. The smaller basin is bounded by the northern coast of Brazil and the North Atlantic shores of Europe

In the first basin high tide occurs 12 hours after the moon passes over the Greenwich meridian, and low tide about six hours later. In the smaller basin high tide occurs eight hours after the moon passes Greenwich

In the same manner, the Indian Ocean is divided into three such basins and the Pacific into two.

The sun's pull also has its effect on tides though far less than does the moon.

However, in a few places the arrangement of land and water is such that the sun is the most important tide-producing force This is the case on the shores of Tahiti High tide there come at noon and midnight, low-tide at six in the morning and six in the evening regardless of the moon's position A larger solar tide occurs on Tuesday Island in Torres Strait off the northern coast of Australia.

Joseph Jenks, a highly skilled worker at the Saugus ironworks, is reputed to have made the dies for the historic Pine Tree Shillings.

West Point's First Chapel Is Moved

WEST POINT, N. Y. (UP)—Old Cadet Chapel, built in 1836, still stands at the U. S. Military Academy—but in a different spot.

The first chapel for cadet worship was built on the site of the present East Academic building. In 1910, when the present Cadet Chapel was erected, the old structure was moved, stone by stone, to West Point's National Cemetery.

Although there now are three other chapels on the grounds, Old Chapel still is used for many of the post-graduation June weddings, for funerals, Sunday school and for Jewish services.

Old Chapel, of simple "classic" architecture in contrast to the present Cadet Chapel's towering Gothic form, houses the "Peace and War" mural by Prof. Robert H. Weir, who taught drawing at the academy from 1833 to 1876 and also painted the famous "Landing of the Pilgrims" in the Capitol rotunda in Washington, D.C.

Around the chapel walls in black marble tablets bearing in gold the name, rank and dates of birth and death of outstanding general officers of the Revolutionary War. In an inconspicuous spot, high on the rear wall, is one bearing only the words "Major General—1741."

The plaque pays tribute to Benedict Arnold for his service in helping to delay the British invasion from Canada and in the Battle of Saratoga. His name and death date were deleted, significant of his treachery later in the war.

Home Loans Reach All-Time Record

CHICAGO (UP) — Despite reports of a shortage of mortgage credit, the nation's saving associations say they are lending more money for home buying and building than ever before

Charles L. Clements, president of the United States Savings and Loan League, said members institutions loaned more money for such ppurposes during the first half of this year than ever before for any six-month period

Clements said the total volume of mortgage lending by savings and loan associations during the first six months totaled $3,738,000,000.

This was nearly 22 per cent ahead of the $3,065,000,000 advanced for home buying and building by the same institutions during the corresponding 1952 period.

Clements said the record amount advanced for new construction by savings associations is playing a major part in keeping the volume of new home building above a year ago

Tuna Fish Features Luncheon Menus

Lima Beans, Split Peas Make Good Chowder And Casseroles

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Is Friday fish day at your house? Then here are two luncheon or supper dishes for you to try.

Both these recipes include tuna, because National Tuna Week is here. During this ten-day "week," from Nov. 5 to 14, chances are you will find some good bargains in tuna on your food markets shelves. Tuna comes in three styles — solid-pack, chunk-size and grated. Choose the type you need for the particular recipe you are preparing.

First recipe is a casserole with a trick to it: you top it with a package of the refrigerated biscuits you'll usually find in the dairy case of your food market. There they are, ten little circles of fresh and delicious biscuit dough, all shaped. All you have to do is to set the biscuits atop a tuna and vegetable casserole. In less than half an hour you'll have a wonderful luncheon dish to take out of the oven for your family.

Next, a hearty split pea and tuna chowder. Along with a fruit salad, it will make a nutritious and satisfying two-course meal.

REFRIGERATED BISCUITS come shaped and ready. Here they are baked atop a casserole of tuna and lima beans.

SPLIT PEA AND TUNA CHOWDER—Hearty and nutritious. Serve it with a fruit salad and it will make a meal.

SCHOOL-DAY BAKE

Ingredients: One 10½-ounce can cream of celery soup, ½ cup milk or cooking water from lima beans, 1 package frozen or 2 cups fresh baby lima beans (cooked until tender and drained), one 7-ounce can tuna fish (drained and broken into large pieces), 3 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted), ¼ pound grated cheddar cheese, 1 package refrigerated biscuits.

Method: Heat oven to 400F. Mix soup and milk or lima bean water. Add cooked drained lima beans and tuna fish. Turn into 12 by 8-inch baking pan or 2-quart casserole. Mix butter with cheese. Place biscuits on tuna mixture in pan or casserole. Sprinkle biscuits with cheese. Bake in preheated 400F. oven about 25 minutes. Serve at once. Makes 5 servings.

Note: One No. 300 or No. 1 can of lima beans (well drained) may be used instead of the fresh or frozen lima beans.

SPLIT PEA AND TUNA CHOWDER

Ingredients: 1½ quarts hot water, 4 slices bacon (diced), 1½ cups split peas, 1 large onion (chopped), 1 medium-size carrot (finely chopped), salt and pepper to taste, one 7-ounce can solid-pack tuna (drained).

Method: Put water, bacon, split peas and onion into a heavy kettle; bring to boil over medium heat. Cover and continue cooking over low heat 1½ hours; add carrot, salt and pepper and continue cooking 1 hour. Break tuna into large pieces with a fork and add to soup mixture; heat to serving temperature. Makes 6 servings.

Housing for Aged Growing Problem

CHICAGO (UP)—Housing for the aged is a growing problem, according to the National Association of Housing Officials.

The association reported that Massachusetts recently became the first state to provide public funds to meet the need. A law passed by the legislature provided for a $5,000,000 program which allows an annual subsidy of $125,000 to keep rental low on dwelling units for the aged.

The state will guarantee the notes or bonds of local authorities that build the housing, up to $5,000,000. The dwellings can be in separate projects or can be incorporated in other state of federally-aided projects.

In Memphis, Tenn., a federally aided, low-rent housing project has 88 one and two-bedroom units set aside specifically for childless couples and the aged. Stair climbing has been eliminated by ramps running from galleries on each floor down to the ground level.

The "ghost town" of Ryderwood, Wash., is being renovated for occupancy by aged, retired persons, according to the association. The former lumber town, consisting of about 400 cottages and other buildings, was bought intact by a promoter who is repainting and repairing usable cottages to house couples 65 years or older.

Ten acres will be set aside for a community vegetable garden, and plans call for a factory to provide part-time employment for residents.

The Upholsterers' International Union (AFL) is planning to build a resort town in Florida at a cost of $5,000,000 for its retired members. The community will be paid for by the union's 55,000 members.

Situated on a 614-acre tract near West Palm Beach, the village is to contain 500 low-rent cottages, a convalescent and nursing home, a clinic, a community center, recreations areas, a man-made lake and vacation cottages for rent to members of other unions.

FARM FEMALE

DANVERS, Mass. (UP)—One of America's oldest active farmerettes is 90-year-old Mrs. Ellen Russell, who has been farming here for 57 years.

Applications Available For Naval ROTC Exam

Deadline for the receipt of applications for the competitive NROTC college training program examination to be conducted Dec. 12 at test centers established throughout the nation is Nov. 21, the Navy has announced.

Applications can be obtained at Harding High School or from the U. S. Navy Recruiter who is at the Courthouse every Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and at colleges and offices of Naval Officer procurement.

From those attaining qualifying scores approximately 2,000 students will be selected for entry into the program in the 1954 fall term of college. The Navy has NROTC units at 52 universities and colleges throughout the United States.

SHORT CUT

SELMAR, Tenn. (UP) — Jerry Howell, a veteran of 71 years of barbering, started his career in 1882, because of a boast. "My mother was a country barber for years," Howell explained. "One day I told her I thought I could cut a head of hair just as good as she could. Ma was a woman of few words. She just handed me the scissors, and I was started on my profession."

WELL-READ ZEALANDERS

CHRISTCHURCH, N. Z. (UP) New Zealanders read and buy more books than Americans. This is one of the first conclusions reached by Robert J. Havighurst, professor of education and chairman of the committee on human development at the University of Chicago, who is here conducting research studies of comparison of New Zealand and American children.

Razing of Edison's Home Threatened

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Orders to tear down a building where Thomas A. Edison once lived have resulted in a drive here to honor the inventor.

Edison lived in Memphis as a young man in the 1860's, moving away before he attained prominence. It wasn't until 1879, at Menlo Park, N. J., that he invented his electric light.

The drive began after wreckers were ordered to raze the old hotel where Edison had lived to make way for a new building.

Mrs. J. D. Mallory got an option to buy the property and urged a fund-raising campaign to convert the place into a museum.

Then Pomingo Park, across from where Edison lived, was renamed Thomas A. Edison Park.

Mrs. Stephen A. Fransioli, whose father-in-law built the small hotel, still have the key to the room in which Edison lived.

"It's a very curious one, solid copper," she said. "I inherited the building, and when forced to sell it during the depression, I kept the key to Edison's room."

English Airmen Enjoy Milk Binge at U.S. Base

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP) — A British airman dropped a casual remark about how good the milk tasted at the Jacksonville Naval Air Station mess hall here and he soon had more than he could handle.

A local dairyman promptly donated 90 pints of milk for a "milk party" for 40 visiting members of a British Coastal Command squadron. The airmen gathered in a hangar and finished off the 90 pints in less than half an hour.

English Airmen Enjoy Milk Binge at U.S. Base

JACKSONVILLE Fla. (UP) — A British airman dropped a casual remark about how good the milk tasted at the Jacksonville Naval Air Station mess hall here and he soon had more than he could handle.

A local dairyman promptly donated 90 pints of milk for a "milk party" for 40 visiting members of a British Coastal Command squadron. The airmen gathered in a hangar and finished off the 90 pints in less than half an hour.

Surgeons Study Unexplored Sections

Brain Area Probed for Speech Origin

WASHINGTON — The left temporal lobe of the brain contains two areas of gray nerve cells essential to human speech.

These now are being probed with electric currents by surgeons at the National Institute of Neurological Diseases during operations which require that the surface of this important and largely unmapped part of the cerebral cortex be exposed for long periods.

From these explorations it now has become obvious that coordinated speech—this can be considered also as including all sorts of writing and sign language—depends on three brain centers which must act in unison.

THE FIRST, known for a long time, is the so-called brocca's area located toward the rear of the frontal lobe which controls voluntary use of speech muscles—essentially those of throat and tongue. The second, one of those now being probed, is called the "nominative center' by Dr. Maitland Baldwin, National Institute surgeon. It is essential for naming an object. The third, has cells which seem all mixed together with the nominative cells so that up to now it has been impossible to separate the two and this has been known as the "semantic center." It is located on the upper posterior part of the temporal lobe, the area of the cerebral cortex just back of the ear and lying below the so-called fissue of sylvius, a deep, gray-celled depression which is the most prominent landmark on the brain's surface.

The cells responsible for the different functions can be depressed by electric currents so that they will not function, and when this happens there are some weird effects. For example, the patient whose brain is exposed during the six to eight hours of the operation is shown some object while the nominative center is put out of action. He will try to tell the operator what he sees.

"It is a—it is a—it is a," he says. He knows perfectly well what the object is, but cannot name it.

The current is removed.

"This is a pencil," the patients say with no difficulty.

The needle is put in another place.

"What is a pencil for?" the patient is asked.

"A pencil is for—a pencil is for—"

The current is removed.

"A pencil is for writing," he says.

—:—

THIS EXPERIMENT is carried out in epilepsy operations and the results are almost always the same. It is clear that two groups of brain cells with entirely different functions are in action to make possible one simple sentence.

The patient, of course, is in complete possession of his faculties. But a bar is put up between the mental activity involved in recognizing an object and that required for giving it a name. The situation would be the same, of course, if he tried to write the word.

The sentence, of course, represents speech, in possession of which man is distinct in creation, at its simplest. Almost anything one would want to say is much more complicated, and it is possible there may be many more separate cell areas essential for even the most casual sort of conversation. No evidence of these, however, has been found to date.

All responses, Dr. Baldwin explains, must be entirely voluntary on the patient's part. There is no way of making anybody talk by means of light stimulation of speech areas. Stimulation of the frontal lobe, brocca's area, could cause involuntary responses of the muscles essential for talking, but the result would be only uncoordinated sounds. Any intelligent communication requires all three areas—and perhaps some still to be discovered—in operation simultaneously.

PROBING THE temporal lobe is of especial importance, it is stressed, for the light it may throw on the evolution of speech, or the basic ability to use words, in the ascent of man. This evolution made man a thinking animal, for it is impossible to imagine anything above the most primitive sort of thought without words.

Historically the temporal lobe has been considered as the brain area of hearing. It serves this function in the brains of all the higher mammals. Actually, the National Institute surgeons point out, the part reserved for hearing in man is quite small and lies on the outer wall of the fissure of sylvius just at the edge of the lobe.

University Reports New Malaria Developments

LOS ANGELES (UP) — For the first time the egg-like oocysts of the malaria parasite have been grown in culture flasks at the Los Angeles campus of the University of California, and scientists believe they may be able now to discover more about the chemical factors that maintain the organism.

Dr. Gordon Ball, who heads the research, said his object is to find out why certain kinds of mosquitoes are carriers of malaria while others are not.

In the parasite's growth cycle there is a period when round structures, known as oocysts, which correspond roughly to fertilized eggs, are formed. When they mature they break up into many organisms and constitute the infective stage of the parasite. These concentrate in the salivary glands of the mosquito, and are then transferred to other living bodies which the mosquito may bite.

Now, for the first time, oocysts have been grown in culture flasks. Living mosquito stomachs can be maintained in a chemical medium for several weeks and attached oocysts can be studied and factors effecting their growth noted.

Dedication of the new home for the superintendent will be held at 2:30 p.m. Rev. Robert Diller, of Alliance, president of the board, and Rev. E. D. Fager, of Lisbon, vice president, will have charge of the dedication service. The service will be amplified to the chapel and hospital floors.

The building program at the Home for the Aged is now complete. Twelve new rooms are finished in the hospital. An Otis elevator is installed and the superintendent's home is complete.

The refreshment table will be in charge of the Amite Sunday school class of the Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church.

'Hardware Disease' Dooms Many Head Of Stock Annually

CHICAGO (UP)—At least $1,000,000 worth of livestock is wasted each year because the animals eat junk, according to a survey.

A special committee reported that federal meat inspectors condemned the carcasses of 31,604 head of cattle between 1948 and 1952 because the animals suffered "hardware disease." At $160 a head, the wasted animals were valued at $5,056,640.

The committee was established by Livestock Conservation, Inc., which was organized by the meatpacking industry to reduce waste.

The committee said the animals eat various metallic items such as bits of barbed wire, nails and screws while foraging in the pastures. Some chunks of metal fall off milling and grinding machines into feed.

The estimated loss of $1,000,000 a year was conservative, the committee said, since it did not take into account the number of cattle that die of hardware disease on farms or that are not federally inspected.

"Hardware disease" may cause perforated internal organs or infections that render the meat useless.

The committee recommended that feed manufacturers install magnetic cleaning units to try to remove metallic items from feed and warned farmers to clear pastures of "junk."

Spend $25 Million This Year

Ohio Independent Phone Companies Boost Service

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— The 179 independent telephone companies in Ohio are spending more than 25 million dollars this yea to bring telephone service to 36 000 families.

So reports Daniel W DeHayes, secretary of the Ohio Independent Telephone Assn that recently surveyed its members on improvements they are making

DeHayes said eight companies are spending more than one million each.

"Wartime material shortages are gone, so we can get the copper and instruments to provide better telephone service all along the line for residents of small towns and rural areas," he said

About one out of every three telephones in Ohio is on an independent line The others are served by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co Ohio Bell serves 25 per cent of the state's area, concentrating in cities, while independents cover 75 per cent of the state's area

At the end of 1952 DeHayes said there were 981 400 independent telephones in service, including 30,665 installed that year at a cost of $18 583 665

Both General Telephone Co of Ohio at Marion and Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co at Portsmouth are investing heavily in the atomic plant area in Pike County.

Major independent telephone projects listed for completion this year include

General Telephone gross additions to plant $4 200 000, including 21 new buildings

Northern Ohio Telephone Co of Bellevue, gross additions to plant of $1 300 000 including major building improvements at three towns.

Lima Telephone & Telegraph Co, gross additions to plant of $1 900,000, including two office projects

Warren Telephone Co, gross additions of $1 300 000, including new Warren main exchange

Mansfield Telephone Co, gross additions of $1,000 000

Ohio Consolidated, gross additions of $1 759 527.

Lorain Telephone Co, gross additions of $1 092 160

Newark Telephone Co gross additions of $1,050,577, including new exchange at Newark and improvements at Granville exchange.

Other projects include

Ashtabula Telephone Co $377,570, Elyria Telephone Co. $325,000, Chillicothe Telephone Co $200 000, Western Reserve Telephone Co $170 000, Citizens Telephone Co, Coolville, $100,000 Troy-Tipp Telephone Co $95 000 Germantown Independent Telephone Co $70,000, Champaign Telephone Co $61 215, Logan Home Telephone Co, $60-000, Harrison Telephone Co $57-000, Conneaut Telephone Co, $55,-000, Kingsville Telephone Co $50-000, and Chardon Telephone Co. $40,000

Independent telephone companies in Ohio vary in size from 50 to 350,000 subscribers, with Cincinnati Suburban being the largest

First companies were formed in the late 1890, when the basic patent granted Alexander Graham Bell expired.

Today throughout the country Bell has five times as many subscribers as all the independents together. But the independents serve twice as many communities, says DeHayes.

He listed these "firsts" for independent companies.

Invention of the dial telephone by a Kansas City undertaker who thought his calls were being transferred to his competitors

Ohio's first automatic exchange installed at St Marys in 1904 by an independent company

Ohio independent companies since the end of World War II have spent more than 90 million to ad 225,000 telephones, DeHayes said At the same time more than 100 Ohio exchanges were converted to automatic dial operation, benefiting 235 000 subscribers

The companies had a total revenue of $41,598 968 last year, DeHayes said and out of this paid taxes of $12 962 654

U.S. Servicemen Learn Thrift Lesson; Savings Hit New High

WASHINGTON (NANA) — GI Joe and his Navy and Air Force counterparts are receiving a valuable lesson in personal thrift along with their military training while in the nation's service.

Official figures show that the members of the Armed Forces have been saving at the rate of more than half a billion dollars yearly out of their pay recently in certain selected mediums of thrift made available by the services. These figures are only for those in uniform. The current rate of servicemen's savings is more than double that of three years ago, and parallels the expansion in the size of the Armed Forces since the aggression in Korea in June.

The services have a long record of encouraging saving among the nation's fighting men in recognition of its importance to the individual in uniform and out. For example, pay allotments for dependents or for savings were in force in the Union Army in the war between the states. The present system of savings deposits with the federal government was introduced in the Army in 1874. And the purchase of life insurance and savings bonds by servicemen was consistently encouraged during World War II, with outstanding results.

As of the beginning of this year members of the Army, Navy and Air Force were buying savings bonds at the rate of nearly $150-000 000 a year. About half this amount was being bought by those in the Navy, where savings bonds were the most popular form of savings according to the figures. The number of Navy purchasers of savings bonds on a regular allotment basis exceeded 327 000 in January, a number nearly twice as great as Army purchasers of these bonds.

Savings allotments were far in the lead as the No. 1 form of thrift in the Air Force. The latest figures show that these were running at more than $25 000 000 a month and that there were approximately 440 000 participants. Savings allotments in the Navy were less than $5 500 000 a month with 115 000 participants. Comparable figures for the Army were not obtained.

Savings allotments are usually set up for specific purposes and the Air Force figures based on a sample survey show that 42 per cent of these airmen's allotments go to insurance companies, 22 per cent to banks, and 36 per cent to individuals.

In addition to the above servicemen have more than $61 000-000 on deposit with the federal government according to the latest figures. About two-thirds of this amount is in the Army. Total deposits of servicemen have remained relatively constant since the start of the Korean War in contrast with the growth of savings bonds purchases and savings allotments in the period.

American Help Needed To Oust Reds

Chennault Sees Success for Possible Chiang Attack

By GEN. CLAIRE CHENNAULT
(AS TOLD TO EARL H. VOSS)

TAIPEH, FORMOSA, (NANA) — It has taken too long, but most people in the United States apparently realize now that Red China will never be friendly to the West. She needs Russian help or she can't live And she can never be friends with both the Soviet and America. As long as the Communists rule China there will be unrest or actual fighting in Asia Real peace is impossible with the Red's in Peking.

That brings up the question of who throws them out? Certainly American troops can't. But native forces in Asia are eager to have a try at it. Free China, which never will accept the Communist victory on the mainland as final, is training a large army now to wrest control of the vast country from the Reds.

THERE IS ENOUGH ASIAN manpower here on Formosa and in Korea to do the job But these forces have a limitation — that of equipment and transportation. If these are supplied by the United States, and if the limited war is resumed in Korea, I think that Chiang Kai-Shek could pull off a successful invasion of the mainland.

Mao Tse-Tung dreads a two-front war much more than Hitler ever did. The key reason is transportation. The China Mainland just doesn't have it.

The Reds were using 1,000,000 troops in Korea That may be the limit they can arm and deploy there. For outside of almost negligible home production, Communist equipment comes from Soviet Russia via Siberia and Manchuria over one key rail line. South of Tientsin there are only two railroads. The Red capacity for supplying troops to the far away south is definitely limited

What I would like to see is a resumption of the war in Korea as an "active defensive." This would be not a push to the Yalu but just enough activity to keep the Reds transporting and expending arms and ammunition at a good rate With the Communists so occupied, Chiang could hit the mainland.

THE COMMUNISTS don't have the capacity to fight in south China with more than 250,000 men in an active campaign. They could not consistently equip and transport reserves for a larger force over the 1,500 miles from Manchuria. If war comes the Reds would have to be denied access to sea transportation, of course. But with the United States Navy — or with Chinese-manned American ships— such a blockade would be relatively easy.

Such a two-front assault is the only way I see for obtaining a victory over Red China.

The bulging South China coast, opposite Formosa is the "soft underbelly of China" because of the supply problem. The best place for Chiang Kai-Shek to hit would be Fukien Province There are no railroads or navigable rivers into this province, which is completely ringed by mountains. If Chiang were able to knock the Reds out of Fukien once they would have an almost impossible task of getting back in.

Chiang, on the other hand, could break out if the United States could furnish him the trucks and transport planes to keep his supplies rolling. The Chinese Nationalist objective, once the breakout of Fukien is accomplished, would be the North-south railroad to the northwest this is the vital railway that links Hankow to Canton. Once astride that railroad Chiang would be able to cut off all supplies heading south toward Canton and Hainan.

THEN IT WOULD BE TIME to turn south with part of Chiang's forces to take Canton. This would give Chiang a port to his rear, from which he could be supplied by water in greater quantity. The next objective would be to take all of south China below the Yangtze River.

Keeping in mind my estimate that the Reds can supply no more than 250,000 effectives in such a South China campaign against the Nationalists, I would estimate that Chiang needs only about 400,000 troops to hit the mainland. In addition, of course, he would need adequate troops to defend the Formosan island bastion to the rear.

Once the generalissimo establishes himself on the mainland, the people will flock to him. He will get more armed forces volunteers than he can arm. How can I be sure? My airline, Civil Air Transport, has more than 1,400 Chinese employes, most of them from the mainland originally. Their families are still there. These employe get almost daily reports from home, and these reports show that nobody is satisfied with the Communists The Reds are oppressing the people and taking their food. Every one is asking, "When is Chiang coming back?"

The people have had a chance to see the Reds in action They don't like what they see Most of them are actively hostile to the Communists.

THERE ARE THOSE who still worry that if Chiang were to hit the mainland under American auspices, Russia would decide to come in and World War III would be on But where is Russia to come in? In South China? That isn't the way the Russians do business They use their satellites that far away from home.

Some think such an attack on Red China would signal the Soviet Union to launch an all-out attack against America. But there is no indication that the Kremlin wants World Warld III. There is evidence, however, that the Kremlin wants to avoid a general war. The Reds want war only when the methods of conquest, like infiltration fail.

An indication of how reluctant the Communists are to fight was provided in Greece They lost Greece after they had almost taken it. Thew had no stomach for the stiffened resistance there after the Americans sent help.

The important thing to remember however is that the Reds in China, who have shown they never intend to let genuine peace break out in the Far East, can be chased out The hard insoluble problem that can be their downfall inadequate transportation.

TAPPING on the DOORWAY to STARDOM

SINCE THE THEATER was born, up-and-coming young performers have yearned to surpass the current stars, and lovely Dolores Ritter, ballet-tap artist, is no exception. Dolores admires movie stars Ann Miller and Cyd Charisse and some day hopes to replace them. Toward that end, Dolores, billed as "America's Dancing Beauty," is appearing in some of the better night clubs in the United States and Canada as well as on many television shows. Her graceful numbers, combined with some fast swing and blues routines, have rated her a "solid act" label from the critics. At first, she specialized in ballet, but when she found tap dancing was more in demand, she trained long hours until she developed "a fast paced tap." Originally from Cleveland, Dolores uses her free time to visit local dance schools or practice on the floor of the night club where she is working. Nor is she neglecting her voice. She's taking singing lessons also, so she will be ready when the time comes for her to step out into the star spotlight.

Dave Morgenstern shows Dolores tap routine.

She takes a rest after strenuous ballet practice.

Angelo Damalas listens as Dolores sings for him.

After the show, Dolores gets a chance to relax.

GOING ON LOCATION isn't always as much fun as it would seem to be for Hollywood actors. Although this movie set locale is actually Sun Valley, Id., it's supposed to be the Canadian north country. Even so, the company still had to jog through snow drifts

Crippling Accident No Bar to Success

Farmer Sustains Injury To Back, Becomes Gunsmith

ROCHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Twenty-six years ago a slim 17-year-old farm boy was crippled for life.

Today at 43 he's a nationally-known gunsmith and last year sold $200,000 worth of rifles and pistols. He is also a top-flight sheep breeder and farmer.

Lowry Smith is a quick-smiling, cheerful fellow who is never content to be idle. For 16 years he has kept his nimble, skilled fingers busy 16 hours every day. Many a husky man twice his 90 pounds would be hard put to keep up with him.

—:—

HE LIVES in a new home—the house that guns built—on an isolated 80-acre farm about seven miles north of this small western Pennsylvania community.

In 1927 he was crushed against his father's barn by a team of horses. His back was broken.

During the eight months he spent in a cast, Lowry decided he would build a business out of his hobby of fixing guns. He started repairing, remaking and trading them at home. In 1934 he opened a small shop. Business began trickling in. Two years later he married the daughter of a nearby farmer.

—:—

LAST YEAR he sold 10,000 guns of all kinds to customers in practically every state of the union and Canada. And he's confined to a wheel chair. Lowry says the "true hunter's desire for personal guns" made his success possible.

The top price he ever charged for a gun was $500, Smith says, although he has taken in trade many costing $1,500. He keeps a stock of 3,000 guns. Although his gunsmithing keeps Lowry pretty busy, he likes to raise sheep and farm for recreation.

LOWRY SMITH sits at workbench in his new living room.

WHEN HE was six, Lowry's father gave him a lamb. His love for the pet prompted him to try his hand at raising sheep. Today he has 250 registered Corriedales and Shropshires, top English breeds, on his Brush Valley Sheep Farm.

"I like farming, but I don't make any money at it," Smith confides.

"You should see him plowing and harrowing with the tractor," said one of the 10 men who help him on the farm and in the gun shop. "You can't praise him too much."

Lowry also finds time to help cultivate his widowed mother's 50-acre farm, adjoining his. But "I'm going to cut down" that 16-hour working day soon, Smith says.

"That," smiles his wife, "is something I've heard for a long time. I'll wait until I see it."

Chicken No. 1 Food Choice of Diners

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Chicken and peas—not meat and potatoes—are favorite foods of the American public. A survey of more than 1,000 restaurants from Miami to Seattle indicates

The survey was conducted by the Diner's Club, which also collected the restaurants' receipes and will publish them next year.

Chicken apparently is enjoyed barbecued, boiled, broiled, roasted and fried. Alfred Bloomingdale, West Coast head of the club, said the vegetable favorite, peas, usually was eaten with a little butter and some salt.

Second choice for an entree was roast turkey with cranberry sauce.

Boy Discards Crutches, Begins Flying Lessons

WARWICK, R. I. (UP)—Robert Danis of Warwick, a cripple for seven of his 16 years, threw his crutches away last spring and now is leaning to fly.

Bob suffered a hip injury playing basketball. It retarded the growth of his left leg. But by this year treatment had erased all effects of the injury except a slight limp.

After only six months of walking, Bob joined the Civil Air Patrol.

FILIAL AFFECTION

WICHITA, Kan. (UP) — Selection of his father from Kansas highway patrolmen to attend the National Police Academy didn't impress Michael Rush, 7. When Mrs. Allen C. Rush began packing her husband's clothes for his three-month stay in Washington, D. C., she could find no underwear. Finally young Mike admitted he had hidden the garments. He didn't want his dad to go away.

The ancient Druids believed that the dead atoned for their sins by residing in the bodies of animals.

Mamie in Line As Leader of Social Whirl

WASHINGTON (UP) — The title of Washington's No. 1 hostess seems destined to go to Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower this winter without challenge.

No other hostess can hope to compete for social honors with the First Lady who will be presiding over her first "season" in the White House.

Warmhearted Mamie is too unassuming to seek out the role of social pacesetter. But the stage has been set for her.

The last dozen years of hot and cold wars and the Truman's preference for informality put a chill on elaborate White House entertainment. But with a truce in Korea, and the Republicans in power for the first time in 20 years, the social year ahead has all the makings of the most brilliant since pre-World War II days.

And Mrs. Eisenhower, known as a meticulous hostess, has the know-how to carry off her new role with grace and ease.

The rest of social Washington will take its cue from the White House which is expected soon to announce resumption of a full schedule of receptions and state dinners with all their accompanying splendor.

On the non-official level, entertaining is likely to go on in almost as grand a manner.

Mrs. Gwen Cafritz, always a contender for the social crown, already is lining up her party plans. She put off her customary early autumn cocktail reception until official mourning for Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson ends.

Mrs. Cafritz's star has waned a bit since the Republicans arrived. But she continues in the front ranks of Washington society.

Returning to the scene soon will be one of her old rivals—Mrs. Perle Mesta, who parlayed a Washington social career into a diplomatic job. The one time hostess with the mostest can be counted on for some parties wherever she establishes headquarters. But she will have little time for extensive entertaining, or resuming her social feud with Mrs. Cafritz. She is planning to write a column for a national magazine and make a lecture tour on her recent travels in Russia.

The winter season is certain to produce some bright new names among social leaders.

Mrs. T. Peter Ansberry, a younger hostess whose parties have been in considerable vogue the last year or two, appears to be among the leaders.

Cabinet wives are likely to stick to the role of party-goers rather than party-givers.

About 75 per cent of U.S. farms have autos.

New Jersey Fishing Conditions Better

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP) — Cornell University scientists say excellent sport fishing in the Atlantic off northern New Jersey is due to an upsurge of deep waters.

Following a survey of the circulation of coastal waters between Massachusetts and New Jersey, they reported that a strong prevailing wind in the area, roughly between Sandy Hook and Bay Head, carries off surface water and causes deeper waters to rise.

"Since this area is just off New York harbor, refuse such as garbage from the city continually flows out into the ocean," said one scientist, Charles Bowers. "This so-called 'polluted' water is actually beneficial because it serves as fertilizer for the microscopic creatures which the fish feed on and makes good feeding gounds in this area.

The Cornell researchers, working under sponsorship of the Office of Naval Research, also located a meeting of waters flowing south along the coast with waters flowing out of Long Island Sound, just off Montauk Point. They called this the "Montauk Convergence."

By studying the rate of currents, they also estimated that more than two and one-half trillion gallons of water flow daily through the New York bight, an area adjacent to the coast from Montauk Point and New Jersey's Barnegat Inlet.

Typhoid Booster Shots Not Always Successful

PITTSBURG, Pa. (UP)—Booster shots, designed to strenthen immunity against typhoid fever, actually may make a person more susceptible to the disease, according to Dr. Louis Goodman, assistant professor of pathology at the University of Pittsburgh.

Recently he told a meeting of the College of American Pathologists here that his observations have uncovered little evidence that supplementary anti-typhoid injections give additional protection over long-standing shots.

Goodman said that, in a study of 335 female patients of a New England mental institution where a typhoid epidemic had broken out, he found a greater susceptibility among those who had received "booster" inoculations.

He pointed out, however, that typhoid shots are valuable and that they protect the vast majority of people

New Fly Protection Planned for Cows

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP) — Experts are hoping for success in an experiment to aid the long-suffering cow that has swished its tufted tail for centuries to get rid of mosquitoes and flies.

Prof. O. S. Bare of the University of Nebraska entomology department said the U. S. Department of Agriculture is experimenting with injection of a chemical Lindane, under the skin of a cow. The chemical is carried to all parts of the cow's body and when a hungry marauder pierces the hide for blood, it is dosed with the insecticide.

Bare emphasized that the work is only experimental so far.

Blaze in Hotel Kills Sea Monster Reports

SILVER LAKE, N. Y. (UP)—Local residents like to recall the story of the 85-foot sea monster that once spread terror in this resort community and attracted thousands of sightseers.

Then, the hotel of A. B. Walker was destroyed by fire. In the ruins searchers found a pile of canvas and rubber and several hundred feet of rope. It was the sea monster.

ANNIE ROONEY — By Darrell McClure

WATCHIN' THIS DREARY, DRIZZLY RAIN GIVES ME THE WIM-WAMS JUST AWFUL—IT MAKES THIS OLD HOUSE LOOK LIKE MRS. MODELY SAID IT WAS—
AND HOW DID MRS MODELY DESCRIBE IT ?
SHE SAID IT WAS A COLD, CLAMMY CATTY-COMB—AN ARKY-TECTURAL NIGHTMARE—AN UNHEALTHY, UNSANITARY RUIN—DID MOLLY MODELY SAY THAT?
YES, SIR—AN' SHE SAID LIVIN' IN THIS TERRIBLE TOMB WAS JUST LIKE PAGING THE UNDERTAKER—
THAT'S ALL I WANT TO KNOW—THERE WILL BE SOME CHANGES MADE—I'LL FIND SOME WAY TO CHANGE THE SPOTS ON THIS ARCHITECTURAL LEOPARD!

HERE'S ONE FOR THE MOST DISCRIMINATING. Sure, we've had her a while. About about. But we don't get to wash her but so. Pass a couple of scratches and white wall tires has a tendency to get that way. Racing Yacht, Career Ended, Rotting at Pier

HONOLULU (UP) — The racing yacht Idalia has come to the end of a long and glamorous career that included everything from trans-Pacific yacht races to smuggling guns to Israel.

The 75-footer that once tossed the spray of the seven seas is now a shabby hulk moored in Honolulu harbor, and moves only with the rise and fall of the tides. The final blow came when Federal Judge Jon Wiig approved her sale on the auction block to pay back an $1,100 judgment lodged against her owner The waterfront gossip is that she'll go under the auctioneer's hammer at a far cheaper price than that

The Idalia sailed in the longest trans-Pacific yacht race ever held —from San Francisco to Tahiti 18 years ago—and finished second.

She was built on the West Coast in 1908 at a cost of nearly $100 000 at a time when that sum built the finest that could be had in yachts. Her workmanship was the best, and woods from all parts of the world went into her construction The decks were of teak as well as most of the hull

The Idalia had several owners, all of them wealthy Her decks were trod by the rich, the famous and the beautiful, and the name Idalia was a by-word in yachting circles for many year.

Her greatest fame came in 1948 when she carried some 15 tons of arms and ammunition from Los Angeles to Acapulco, Mexico, for trans-shipment to Israel Her owner, Leland R. Lewis, of Coronado, Calif, claimed he had been forced under threat of death to load and ship the war material.

The Idalia also was used in numerous movies. Later she became a cruise boat for special parties working out of Pacific Coast ports, eventually ending up in Honolulu four years ago.

Customs agents impounded her as soon as she tied up here, and her skipper was accused of violating his license by carrying passengers and cargo

Since then she has lain at a crusty Honolulu dock, unwanted and uncared for Her paint has blistered and peeled, her sails have rotted, and her hull stripped. An attempt was made to outfit her last year, and $1 100 was spent in the attempt Failure to pay for the work brought the lawsuit for recovery of funds which will send the once-proud Idalia under the auctioneer's hammer for whatever price her rotting old hull will bring
